

Ad Hoc Task Force to Review the Proposed OCLC Policy for Use and Transfer of WorldCat Records
Final Report to the ARL Board
January 30, 2009

I. Introduction

The release of a new "OCLC Policy for Use and Transfer of WorldCat Records" initiated an outpouring of concern in the research library community. ARL directors asked that ARL investigate the policy and its ramifications for the community. In response, the ARL Executive Committee established an Ad Hoc Task Force to review the Policy and identify issues of particular interest to research libraries. [See Appendix A for the task force charge and membership list.]

The task force met several times by conference call in December 2008 and January 2009. Task force members reviewed the Policy and the associated FAQ carefully. Additional information from ARL members and the larger OCLC community was shared for discussion. Report language was circulated to ensure clarity of expression for different points of view. Additional information was gathered regarding terminology of guidelines, policies, and enforceability. [See Appendix B for a Memorandum from Jonathan Band on "Enforceability of OCLC Policy for Use and Transfer of WorldCat Records."]

This report is organized by first providing a short summary of the new Policy, followed by the task force's understanding of the intent of, and need for, the new Policy. The report then discusses issues in the policy, reports on our findings regarding the Policy and the process of policy implementation generally, and ends with recommendations to the ARL Board. Our recommendations include that the ARL Board share this report with the OCLC Board of Trustees to offer it for consideration in OCLC's own newly established review process. We also encourage making this report publicly available as a contribution to the broader community discussion of the Policy.

II. Summary of OCLC Policy

OCLC released its new Policy on November 4, 2008. This Policy is intended to replace previously issued "Guidelines for the Use and Transfer of OCLC-Derived Records" (November 16, 1987). In issuing the new Policy, OCLC cited reasons such as improvements in technology and changes in the way libraries obtain and use bibliographic records, protection of the rights of OCLC members and their investment in the WorldCat database, and provision of a means for OCLC to negotiate with prospective partners.

The new Policy is divided into several sections: intent, definitions, use of records, transfer of records, and additional provisions that include termination of the right to use and transfer records if the policy is violated. Modifications to the
