Reporting The World:

Reporting the World Jake Lynch, 2002-01-01      Reporting World War II G. Kurt Piehler, Ingo Trauschweizer, 2023-04-25

This set of essays offers new insights into the journalistic process and the pressures American front line reporters experienced covering World War II. Transmitting stories through cable or couriers remained expensive and often required the cooperation of foreign governments and the American armed forces. Initially reporters from a neutral America documented the early victories by Nazi Germany and the Soviet invasion of Finland. Not all journalists strove for objectivity. During her time reporting from Ireland, Helen Kirkpatrick remained a fierce critic of that country's neutrality. Once the United States joined the fight after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, American journalists supported the struggle against the Axis powers, but this volume will show that reporters even when members of the army sponsored newspaper Stars and Stripes were not mere ciphers of the official line. African American reporters Roi Ottley and Ollie Stewart worked to bolster the morale of Black GIs and undermined the institutional racism endemic to the American war effort. Women front line reporters are given their due in this volume, examining the struggles to overcome gender bias by describing triumphs of Thelma Mabel Bonney, Iris Carpenter, Lee Carson, and Anne Stringer. The line between public relations and journalism could be a fine one, as reflected by the U.S. Marine Corps creating its own network of Marine correspondents who reported on the Pacific island campaigns and had their work published by American media outlets. Despite the pressures of censorship, the best American reporters strove for accuracy in reporting the facts, even when dependent on official communiqués issued by the military. Many wartime reporters, even when covering major turning points, sought to embrace a reporting style that recorded the experiences of average soldiers. Often associated with Ernie Pyle and Bill Mauldin, the embrace of the human interest story served as one of the enduring legacies of the conflict. Despite the importance of American war reporting in shaping perceptions of the war on the home front as well as shaping the historical narrative of the conflict, this work underscores how there is more to learn. Readers will gain from this work a new appreciation of the contribution of American journalists in writing the first version of history of the global struggle against Nazi Germany, imperial Japan, and fascist Italy.

Reporting Global while being Local Saumava Mitra, Chris Paterson, 2021-05-11. International news has long been studied and understood as produced by outsiders: foreign correspondents working in exotic international locales. This book challenges this established view by putting the spotlight on the insiders working in their own countries, producing news for international audiences. Western male foreign correspondents who report from areas affected by crises and conflicts for an audience back home have long stood in as visible metaphors of international news production. But the understanding of who produces international news is starting to shift as scholars come to take into account the often invisible role played by locally based, non-Western news workers who have always been part and parcel of international news production. The roles and responsibilities of these professional specialised locals within the global flow of news have only increased as falling news industry revenues have meant reductions in non local staff in foreign news bureaus Available research shows that the involvement of local journalists and fixers as well as NGOs as sources of news and information in international news production is marked by economic socio cultural and practice related tensions To shed light on these growing yet relatively less investigated changes happening in international news making this book brings together the latest of studies conducted on this form of journalistic labour around the world This book will contribute to both the breadth and depth of our future understanding of local news work that benefits distant audiences and also help cement the place of such journalistic work as a vital topic of analysis in its own right The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Journalism Studies Practising Global Journalism John Herbert,2013-02-11 From this book you will gain an understanding of the global media marketplace the technology the players and the issues The role of news agencies sources and networks are explored covering the issues of ethics global media ownership and control Find out how journalists are using the web and learn even newer ways to collect and communicate information Essential reading for today s practising and trainee journalists John Herbert examines the global environment in which journalists operate and describes the latest technology and its impact on print broadcast and online journalism practice Practising Global Journalism is a unique overview of the profession providing a comparative study of journalism practice worldwide Case studies are drawn from Europe Australia the Asia Pacific South Asia China Africa and the Americas Integrated Reporting für die Praxis Klaus Rainer Kirchhoff,2019-04-05 In Zeiten sinkenden Vertrauens in die Integrität von Unternehmen gewinnt eine wertschaffende Alternative zur konventionellen Finanz und Nachhaltigkeitsberichterstattung an Bedeutung das Integrated Reporting Schrittweise umgesetzt berücksichtigt es die veränderten Informationsbedürfnisse der Stakeholder und ist zu einem wichtigen Kommunikationsinstrument unserer Zeit geworden Das Autorenteam setzt sich mit den internationalen Empfehlungen zur Theorie und den Herausforderungen aus der Unternehmenspraxis auseinander Ausgewählte internationale Berichtsbeispiele und Interviews mit Experten aus verschiedenen Unternehmen liefern wertvolle Einblicke zum praktischen Umgang mit dem Integrated Reporting A Report on Veterans' Benefits in the United States by the President's Commission on Veterans' Pensions President's Commission on Veterans' Pensions (U.S.),1956 Handbook of Business and Climate Change Anant K.
