Recruiting 101

Recruiting is a key part of building a successful program. Do it well, and you'll build the foundation of a dynasty. Do it poorly, and you'll be looking for a new job. Here are some tips to help you get started.

Finding recruits to target

You can target 40 players each week. To find players to target, it's best to only target players who are interested in your program. Each player has a level of interest in your school, which can be compared against other schools. As a rule of thumb, if your school doesn't meet the interest of the top 5 schools pursuing them, it will be very hard to secure their commitment. You can find recommended players to target by using the "Current place in tier" filter to find players who have your team in their Top 5. You can also see what targets your staff recommends by clicking "View recommended targets" below or in the targets header.

Scouting recruits

Each recruit has a scout percent, which determines how many attributes are revealed. At 0% scout percent, you will see their potential, and at 100% their durability. Scout percent is increased by manually scouting players (clicking the "Scout" button), or by applying recruiting actions to them. Additionally, your coaching staff has pre-scouted local players, as well as recommended targets, so you may want to look them first when building your recruiting board.

Using recruiting actions

There are a few different types of recruiting actions you can take each week. The first profiles to target from your
