Venice's Rent Collection Courtyard Guo-Qiang Cai,1999 Postwar Revisited Okwui Enwezor,Atreyee Gupta,2025-03-28

Okwui Enwezor's 2016 exhibition Postwar Art between the Pacific and the Atlantic 1945-1965 redefined the history of art produced in those two decades. Nearly a decade later Postwar Revisited returns to these debates to present an image of a historical period in which Western conceptions of art aesthetics and philosophy are all thrown into intense flux after Auschwitz and Hiroshima while the cultural energies of decolonization generate myriad artistic and intellectual practices across the globe which re-engage the connections of art to life itself. Focusing on modernist artists, artist collectives and architects central to dissonant regional traditions as well as influential exhibitions and patronage systems, the contributors produce a new understanding of emergent postwar global art. Provoking new ways of thinking, engaging and narrating art history, Postwar Revisited is essential reading for those interested in debates on global art history and global modernism, the intersections between art and decolonization, the cultural aspects of the Cold War and the Non Aligned Movement and modern and contemporary art more generally. Contributors: Iftikhar Dadi, Okwui Enwezor, Patrick Flores, Hal Foster, Boris Groys, Atreyee Gupta, Elizabeth Harney, Jennifer Josten, Vivian Li, Tara McDowell, Alexandra Munroe, Nada Shabout, Terry Smith, Jenni Sorkin, Ming Tiampo.

Animation in China Sean Macdonald,2015-11-06. By the turn of the 21st century, animation production has grown to thousands of hours a year in the People's Republic of China (PRC). Despite this and unlike American blockbuster productions and the diverse genres of Japanese anime, much animation from the PRC remains relatively unknown. This book is an historical and theoretical study of animation in the PRC. Although the Wan Brothers produced the first feature length animated film in 1941, the industry as we know it today truly began in the 1950s at the Shanghai Animation Film Studio (SAFS) which remained the sole animation studio until the 1980s. Considering animation in China as a convergence of the institutions of education, fine arts, literature, popular culture and film, the book takes comparative approaches that link SAFS animation to contemporary cultural production including American and Japanese animation, Pop Art and mass media theory. Through readings of classic films such as Princess Iron Fan, Uproar in Heaven, Princess Peacock and Nezha Conquers the Dragon King, this study represents a revisionist history of animation in the PRC as a form of postmodernism with Chinese characteristics. As a theoretical exploration of animation in the People's Republic of China, this book will appeal greatly to students and scholars of animation, film studies, Chinese studies, cultural studies, political and cultural theory.

The Stranger and the Chinese Moral Imagination Haiyan Lee,2014-11-12. In the last two decades, China has become a dramatically more urban society and hundreds of millions of people have changed residence in the process. Family and communal bonds have been broken in a country once known as a society of kith and kin. There has been a pervasive sense of moral crisis in contemporary China and the new market economy doesn't seem to offer any solutions. This book investigates how the Chinese have coped with the condition of modernity in which strangers are routinely thrust together Haiyan Lee dismisses the easy answers claiming that this moral crisis is merely smoke and mirrors conjured up by paternalistic overwrought leaders and scholars or that it can be simply chalked up to the topsy turvy of a market economy on steroids Rather Lee argues that the perception of crisis is itself symptomatic of a deeper problem that has roots in both the Confucian tradition of kinship and the modern state management of stranger sociality This ambitious work is the first to investigate the figure of the stranger foreigner peasant migrant bourgeois intellectual class enemy unattached woman animal across literature film television and museum culture Lee s aim is to show that hope lies with a robust civil society in which literature and the arts play a key role in sharpening the moral faculties and apprenticing readers in the art of living with strangers In so doing she makes a historical comparative and theoretically informed contribution to the on going conversation on China s un civil society

Through a Glass Darkly William Hinton, 2006-06 Through a Glass Darkly was William Hinton s last book It draws on a lifetime of immersion in Chinese politics and society beginning with the seven years he spent in China working mainly in agriculture and land reform until 1953 On his return to the United States in that year Hinton first encountered the distortions and misrepresentations of the Chinese Revolution that he examines in this book Hinton defends the achievements of the Chinese Revolution during the three decades from 1948 to 1979 from its detractors both in the United States and since 1979 in China itself His starting point is the work of John K Fairbank for many years a professor at Harvard and the dean of China Studies in the United States But it is not limited to critique Instead Hinton s critique of Fairbank leads into a wide ranging examination of the nature of the transformation attempted in China its social and political bases and the causes and consequences of its policies in land reform agriculture combating famine popular culture industrialization morality and much else besides Moving from large questions to concrete details often drawn from his own experiences Hinton brings everyday life in revolutionary China graphically to life In a time when the distorted views first developed by U S critics of the Chinese Revolution are often propagated by the new Chinese elite themselves Through a Glass Darkly has more than just historical relevance For anyone wishing to understand present day rivalries between the United States and China Hinton shows how these began This is a fitting completion of the work of a great scholar and revolutionary
