Reparenting Schizophrenics The Cathexis Experience:

Reparenting Schizophrenics Elaine Childs-Gowell, 2000-10 Reparenting Schizophrenics is the result of ethnographic research into the healing rituals of a western psychiatric community in the 1970s and of how rituals adaptation and Transactional Analysis intersect to create change in individuals suffering from schizophrenia The Transactional Analysis structure is delineated as a basis for teaching individuals how to separate thoughts and feelings how to think about problems and how to use cognitive behavioral and developmental approaches to the healing of individuals who are profoundly disturbed The process known as Reparenting involves both in patient and outpatient treatment and cognitive behavioral methods coupled with regressions and healthy parenting to bring about change in the participants in the Cathexis Institute

Reparenting Schizophrenics Elaine Childs-Gowell, 1979 Schizophrenia Bulletin, 1980 Transactional Analysis Approaches to Brief Therapy Keith Tudor, 2002-02-05 Of all the approaches to therapy Transactional Analysis or TA is arguably one of those most suited to time limited work At a time when short term therapy is increasingly dominant as a form of practice Transactional Analysis Approaches to Brief Therapy provides an insightful guide which both informs and challenges Rather than a single theory TA has developed as a group of four schools which share a common philosophy but place different emphasis on what occurs during the therapeutic process Written by therapists at the leading edge of developments in TA the book presents and differentiates each of these four approaches Through transcripts and commentaries it shows how theory applies to practice for example Schizophrenia Research Trends Konstance V. Almann, 2007 Schizophrenia is a chronic severe and disabling psychosis which is an impairment of thinking in which the interpretation of reality is abnormal Psychosis is a symptom of a disordered brain Approximately One percent of the population worldwide develops schizophrenia during their lifetime Although schizophrenia affects men and women with equal frequency the disorder often appears earlier in men usually in the late teens or early twenties than in women who are generally affected in the twenties to early thirties People with schizophrenia often suffer symptoms such as hearing internal voices not heard by others or believing that other people are reading their minds controlling their thoughts or plotting to harm them The current evidence concerning the causes of schizophrenia are many It is quite clear that multiple factors are involved These include changes in the chemistry of the brain changes in the structure of the brain and genetic factors Viral infections and head injuries may also play a role New molecular tools and modern statistical analyses allow focusing in on particular genes that might make people more susceptible to schizophrenia by affecting for example brain development or neurotransmitter systems governing brain functioning State of the art imaging techniques are being used to study the living brain They have recently revealed specific subtle abnormalities in the structure and function of the brains of patients with schizophrenia In other imaging studies early biochemical changes that may precede the onset of disease symptoms have been noted prompting examination of the neural circuits that are most likely to be involved in producing those symptoms This
