Visions of Global America and the Future of Critical Reading Daniel T. O'Hara, 2009 The forces of globalization have transformed literary studies in America and not for the better The detailed critical reading of artistic texts has been replaced by newly minted catchphrases describing widely divergent snippets and anecdotes deemed mere documents regardless of the critic's expertise in the appropriate languages and cultures Visions of Global America and the Future of Critical Reading by Daniel T. O'Hara traces the origin of this global approach to Emerson But it also demonstrates another tragic tradition of vision from Henry James that counters the Emersonian global imagination with the hard realities of being human Building on this tradition on Lacan's insights into the Real and on Badiou's original theory of truth O'Hara points to how we can and should reground literary study in critical reading In Emerson's classic essay

Experience 1844 America appears in and as a symptom of the critic's self making that sacrifices the power of love to this visionary project a literary version of the American self made man O'Hara rescues critical reading using James's late work especially The Golden Bowl 1904 and builds on this vision with examinations of texts by St Paul Emerson Wallace Stevens James Purdy John Cheever James Baldwin John Ashbery and others
