Representing Men Maleness And Masculinity In The Media:

Representing Men Kenneth MacKinnon, 2003 Arguing that several aspects of masculinity are in fact ideals rather than realities created and reinforced by the mass media Kenneth MacKinnon alerts readers to the processes and purposes of such media representations and blatant manipulation

Bestseller - gestern und heute / Bestseller - Yesterday and Today Albrecht Classen, Eva Parra-Membrives, 2016-01-18 What is the meaning of a bestseller for the history of literature How do we define it in the first place and what consequences does the success on the book market have for the literary evaluation of a text What is the relationship between quantity and quality Many literary scholars shy away from doing research on bestsellers but the question regarding the formation of a literary canon is closely connected with this issue How do we evaluate the quality of a text in the first place The topic of the bestseller forces us to examine more closely the relationship between the reading public literary scholarship and the book market On the one hand we have to examine the sales strategies for a book on the other we have to consider what intentions a literary text might pursue first of all and how we as literary scholars have to engage with the text critically From this results also the challenge to re investigate the foundation of literary scholarship and to take note of premodern and modern bestsellers in their social historical and mental historical relevance without ignoring the textual aesthetics

All Equally Real: Femininities and Masculinities Today Anna Pilińska, Harmony Siganporia, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2014 This volume is a collection of research papers which deem gender identities to be dynamic and multiple categories refusing resolutely to reduce their complexity to fit neat extant binaries It attempts to grapple with the dialectic which emerges from the fact that while there is a certain resistance to being labeled in contemporary discourses on sexuality gender identities actively influence how we interpret the world and how we function within it we exist amongst patterns models and behaviours as well as among people who virtually demand to be labeled because to them this forms the basis of a stable identity Various cultural perspectives and realities are here given voice bringing to bear upon the reader the need to identify privileges they might take for granted but which are unobtainable elsewhere As the curtain of one's own cultural context is lifted this volume hopes that these privileges are even if for a moment no longer invisible

Race and Gender in Electronic Media Rebecca Ann Lind, 2016-10-04 This volume examines the consequences implications and opportunities associated with issues of diversity in the electronic media With a focus on race and gender the chapters represent diverse approaches including social scientific humanistic critical and rhetorical The contributors consider race and gender issues in both historical and contemporary electronic media and their work is presented in three sections content context audiences effects and reception and culture media industries policy and production In this book the authors investigate problematize and theorize a variety of concerns which at their core relate to issues of difference How do we use media to construct and understand different social groups How do the media represent and affect our engagement with and responses to different social groups How can we understand these processes and the environment within which they occur Although this book focuses on the differences associated with race and gender the questions raised by and the theoretical perspectives presented in the chapters are applicable to other forms of socially constructed difference Chapters 5 10 12 and 19 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Encyclopedia of Gender and Society Jodi O'Brien, 2009 Provides timely comparative analysis from internationally known contributors Jahresbibliographie Massenkommunikation, 2003

The Ages of Superman Joseph J. Darowski, 2012-01-27 Since Superman first appeared on the cover of Action Comics 1 in 1938 the superhero has changed with the times to remain a relevant icon of American popular culture This collection explores the evolution of the Superman character and demonstrates how his alterations mirror historical changes in American society Beginning with the original comic book and ending with the 2011 Grounded storyline these essays examine Superman's patriotic heroism during World War II his increase in power in the early years of the Cold War his death and resurrection at the end of the Cold War and his recent dramatic reimagining By looking at the many changes the Man of Steel has undergone to remain pertinent this volume reveals as much about America as it does about the champion of Truth Justice and the American Way Masculinity and Popular Television Rebecca Feasey, 2008 An introduction to the key debates concerning the representation of masculinities in contemporary television programming The Ages of the Justice League Joseph J. Darowski, 2017-03-27 The first superhero team from the Silver Age of comics DC's Justice League has seen many iterations since its first appearance in 1960 As the original comic book continued and spin off titles proliferated talented writers artists and editors adapted the team to appeal to changing audience tastes This collection of new essays examines more than five decades of Justice League comics and related titles Each essay considers a storyline or era of the franchise in its historical and social contexts Perseus' Schild Ulrich Meurer, 2008 Masculinity in Spanish Film Mary T. Hartson, 2008 Queering Oedipus Shane Sanchez, 2009 Reading Media Theory David Maxwell Barlow, Brett Mills, 2009 This unique part reader part textbook brings core primary media theory readings to the student whilst assisting them with reading understanding decoding and deconstructing the material The dual functionality of the book helps students to familiarise themselves with core texts and develop the necessary critical reading skills and confidence required to engage with the subject The text is annotated throughout and explores context content structure and writing style in order to bring theory to life for the reader The book is split into four sections namely Reading theory Key thinkers and schools Approaches and Media Theory in context This structure is adopted in order to encourage students to familiarise themselves with the material and the progressive pedagogical apparatus guides them to approach it gradually whilst developing their skill set The provision of questions to provoke further thought helps to encourage the student to read more widely around the subject and engage with core concepts of both theory and learning Ultimately the text acts as a how to read handbook for media theory and is structured so that students can learn the literature as well as learning how to approach it

Men and Masculinity - the Presentation of Men and Male Relationships in Three Contemporary British Novels Symon Nicklas, 2011-03 Thesis M A from the year 1999 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 2 7 B Free University of Berlin English Philology 82 entries in the bibliography language English abstract The 1990s has witnessed a groundswell of interest in men and masculinity The book market saw countless publications the media took up the topic and discussions about the nineties man became and still are very much en vogue even though we are on the brink of the next millennium Parallel to public interest there was also an increase in academic writing Numerous sociological and psychological studies endeavoured to explore the roots of masculinity and examined the mechanisms of its functions in cultures depending of various kinds of gender division They concluded that masculinity has no fixed concept that masculinity is not just what a group of men happen to do Rather it has to be understood in relation to the gender role as a social practice negotiated by men and understood in relation to the gender order So one should instead speak of masculinities if one wants to grasp the different representations of maleness in society Feminists and multiculturalists have repeatedly criticised the dominant gender position of men in society and questioned the legitimacy for patriarchy They asked for a new man a new social understanding of male values and attitudes and asked for change Since the mid 1970s men responded to the call for change explored aspects of men s lives and started to question whether the traditional concept a concept that is still very much practised by men throughout the Western world of male domination is still irreproachable This however also sparked off a crisis indeed a dilemma because many men felt that without a fixed basis to define themselves they lost their bearings Bearing this in mind it is an interesting question to ask in what way men represent men so the task of my thesis is to find out what kind
