Your Guide to Get Into Medical School Aly Madhavji, Jiayi Hu, Manveen Puri, Sameer Masood, 2016-07-30 It is commonly known that the application process to medical school is competitive From our experience about 1% of students who express an interest in becoming a physician during their first year of undergraduate studies eventually matriculate into medical school While pursuing a career in medicine remains a dream for many and is considered the endpoint of a journey many different paths can lead towards that destination Given the significant time commitment required for a successful application the decision to pursue medicine is one of the biggest decisions many high school and undergraduate students face However many applicants do not look beyond gaining the coveted admission letter and are then left with an incomplete understanding of what medical school entails and the diverse career paths they can take after obtaining their MD One of the primary reasons for this is that despite significant progress made in recent years medicine remains a closed door career A large proportion of students in our medical class had at least one immediate relative within the profession which is also reflected in the literature The barriers created by such exclusivity make it difficult for those who have not been socialized into the profession from a young age to navigate the unspoken pitfalls of the admissions process This book attempts to break down some of those barriers It focuses on every component of the medical school application process It differs from the many other books written on this subject by taking an experiential approach We believe that the best way to learn about medical school acceptance is to garner advice from those who have recently achieved that milestone as well as from individuals in related professions who can provide valuable insights This guide is divided into ten chapters each of them covering an important step along a premed's journey While this book has a focus on North America we have written this guide with a global audience in mind as many of the concepts discussed are relevant to any medical school application process As such although the key components of the application process to medical school remain the same across various training systems not every chapter will be equally relevant to every reader Typically an application is composed of academic performance volunteer activities research projects medical college admission test performance and extracurricular activities We have combined the prescriptive style of most books of this type with detailed stories of how real people navigated their personal journeys to reach successful outcomes This guide shares a broad range of perspectives on what it takes and means to be a physician We are more convinced than ever that amongst applicants who have the academic credentials those who seek mentors and network early within the profession be it through family or friend circles and those who learn from their mistakes are accepted earlier This book will help you in that journey towards medical school acceptance and an exciting career in medicine Jiayi Hu MD Manveen Puri MD CCFP Sameer Masood MD Aly Madhavji CPA CA CMA CIM Resources for Nursing Research Cynthia Clamp, Stephen Gough, 1999-09-20 Fully revised and updated the third edition of this invaluable bibliography of sources of literature for nurses includes over 2760 entries 64 per cent of which are new This comprehensive yet concise guide is designed for convenience and ease of use and covers all aspects of nursing and allied health research with accessible and informative entries compiled within three sections The first covers the process of literature searching libraries and tools print and electronic for accessing literature In the second methods of inquiry are presented The final section discusses issues surrounding nursing research The book includes an extended section on electronic sources as well as many web site addresses and is design Healthcare Systems Jeffrey Braithwaite, Russell Mannion, Yukihiro Matsuyama, Paul G. Shekelle, Stuart Whittaker, Samir Al-Adawi, 2018-05-11 In this book we invited 146 authors with expertise in health policy systems design management research or practice from each of the countries included to consider health reforms or systems improvements in their country or region The resulting case studies of 52 individual countries and five regional groupings cover 152 countries or territories or three quarters of the world's nations Each chapter author was asked to think 5 15 years into the future and make a prediction on how their health system could be strengthened as a result of the successful unfolding of their case study The types of projects our authors have chosen to explicate into the future are wide ranging They vary from e consultation services in Estonia achieving universal health coverage in Argentina and Mexico reforming long term care in the Netherlands reassessing care for the aging population and the frail elderly in Australia streamlining the health system through Lean Thinking in Nigeria using regulation to improve care in South Africa developing a new accreditation model in Turkey through to a critique of physician specialization in Russia and applying IT initiatives to improve care in China Lebanon Taiwan Papua New Guinea the United Arab Emirates Venezuela and Wales Chapter writers recognized that the improvement work they were doing was part of a moving target There was general agreement that the effective use of limited resources and overcoming hurdles and constraints were crucial to enhancing health systems in order to deliver better care over the medium term While some initiatives required considerable funding many were relatively inexpensive These case studies demonstrate ways in which fruitful application of partnerships and creativity can make considerable gains in strengthening healthcare delivery systems Features The third book in a series on international health reform Involves 146 contributing authors five regional editors a series editor and a highly skilled support team to explore sustainable improvement in health systems in the future Encompasses a time horizon of the next 5 15 years Covers 152 countries or territories with 52 individual countries and an analysis of five regional groupings comprising 100 countries
