the puppy dog at the pound I looked through the glass wishing someone would pick me to be theirs I had a phone full of far flung friends phone numbers but I didn't yet know anyone I could just sit and laugh with in a caf It hit me how very hard the friendship process is I'm an outgoing socially comfortable woman with a long line of good friendships behind me And yet I stood there feeling very lonely And insecure And exhausted at just the idea of how far I was from that reality I knew I couldn't just walk in there and introduce myself to them Hi You look like fun women can I join you I would have been met with stares of pity No one wants to seem desperate even if we are We don't have platonic pick up lines memorized Flirting for friends seems creepy Asking for her phone number like we're going to call her up for a Saturday night date is just plain weird All the batting of my eyelashes wasn't going to send the right signals And so I turned away from the scene of laughter and walked away No unfortunately friendships don't just happen We Value Belonging Friendships may not happen automatically but what we crave about them sure seems to We all want to belong that need to be connected to others is an inherent desire We live our entire lives trying to fit in be known attract acceptance and experience intimacy We desperately want to have others care about us This book is about that hunger And more pointedly it is about listening to it and learning how to fulfill it
