A stylized, artistic illustration of a cell. The central cell is depicted with a green, textured outer membrane. Inside, there are several blue, bean-shaped mitochondria with internal folds. A large, yellow, multi-lobed structure, possibly a lysosome or Golgi apparatus, is filled with small yellow circles. The cell is surrounded by other cellular components, including a green spherical structure with a textured surface and a blue spherical structure with a textured surface. The background is dark with some green and blue wispy lines, suggesting a cellular environment.
