

LANGUAGE

- Turned face - characters language used to highlight different ways of the 'face' being looked. Insecure language used for audience to imply how Billy and Mary's love really is. "What's in love and out", "look, pretty things". Added elements to highlight phrases such as "you could be left here" - while creating scenes audience to create the disturbing effect. Defiant suggests.
- Institutionalised - insecure language used to match with the wedding ring scene, audience knows of derogatory meaning. "It's a double wedding?", "Yes, they're both to be wed", "is his special voice". Keep the girls inside a cage, Billy on top to represent strength of words.
- Outside world exposure - Characteristic language used to convey personality and emotions. (Specially subsequent) "he just said, a'what's he just said?", "you think we're freaks, don't you?"

FIVE KINDS OF SILENCE

NON-VERBAL COMMUNICATION

- Five kinds of silence - best expressed fear of not being heard by anyone or leaving the world without being noticed. "You are and nothing", "we felt a bit sad". To avoid sympathy being felt - characters had expressions faces to show no emotion. Towards were added for disturbance. Defiant convey the meaning that this scene included more rebellion from the girls. The body language was always a bit suggestive the standing in disturbing way to represent innocence even if the facial expressions didn't show that.
- Institutionalised - Moments of calm and focus to reveal the an actor in Billy. Facial expressions of Billy were mostly signs to create a constant fear, girls were expressions to avoid sympathy this scene. Words were arranged trapped inside cage - Billy on top to show control. Non-verbal communication helped convey the rebellion acted out by the girls (as they stepped out of the cage by constantly attempting to escape).
- Turned face - Defiant expressed the conviction of Mary as to why she did not leave Billy. "Why did you get up with him?" "Why did you release him?". Movements were shown like crawling to represent defiant's disturbance.

INTERPRETATION

- Five kinds of silence - As Billy was describing his life, the girls screamed repeatedly. This scene was important because it portrayed Billy's confusion as to what was happening to him and how his power was dropping as he did not know what to do. The screams represented Billy's anger and was approaching. The screaming girls stood behind the table Billy was on to show they represent his fears and at the back of his mind.
- Institutionalised - As the girls were standing, they were shown to be trapped inside a cage to represent the control Billy has on the girls. Practically the chairs were arranged so Billy could sit on top of the cage to getting his control on the girls. As the girls stepped out of the cage, it showed that Billy was slowly losing his control and this was shown by her stepping down a block.
- Turned face - As Mary was describing her likeness of rolling herself when sitting under the table, the camera related her whilst whispering and grabbing onto the chairs to seem unstable. This scene represents the trapped acceptance Mary has for Billy.

SOCIAL/HISTORICAL/POLITICAL/CULTURAL CONTEXT

- John Bowlby's Theory - Bowlby's evolutionary theory of attachment tells us that children come into the world pre-programmed to form attachments with others, because this will help them to survive. This links with five kinds of silence because it shows that since Billy did not receive attachment as his childhood, he did not survive.
- Alone - The Violence Against Women Act was developed as a result of extensive public efforts in the late 80's and early 90's. Violence Against Women Act has been extended from domestic violence and sexual assault also include dating violence and stalking. This relates to five kinds of silence as it was around the time of the play. It shows how the violence acted out by Billy towards the women and how he did not see anything wrong with the harm he was doing.

VOCAL AWARENESS

- Turned face - Defiant - Defiant expressed vulnerability, seemed helpless but did not completely - avoid sympathy. "You think we're freaks don't you?" "he just said, you know?". Tone and pitch stayed the same to avoid emotion. Volume increased to getting yelling and emphasis "You think we're freaks don't you?". Focus used to exaggerate points to audience so they could understand his character. Vocal awareness portrayed general distress of characters.
- Five kinds of silence - best expressed no emotion, just given rebellion against Billy - defiant response. "You are and nothing!" "we felt a bit sad". Tone and volume stayed level throughout until whispering off the stage and pitch increased when I screamed for Billy's to represent her frustration and fear stepping her body. Focus added to emphasise scenes.
- Turned face - Defiant expressed innocence as they were representing Mary's conviction. "Why did you get up with him for so long Billy?" "Why did you release him?". Whispering was added to represent volume in the head. Vocal awareness helped convey the innocence of Mary's background thoughts.

CHARACTERISATION

- Institutionalised - focus's most important scenes are - "It's a double wedding", "is his special voice". I use focus to be consistent in this scene because she had faced traumatic events with her father - she has completely let her out the emotion side of herself - almost rebels. Practically represented her to helpless but not a complete - it conveyed the idea of her feelings being felt by the girls - add this by portraying no expression by having no emotion in my voice and being distant in my movements to avoid any confusion in her mind.
- Outside World Exposure - focus's most significant scenes is they were are "he just said you know?" "You think we're freaks don't you?". I imagine focus to be the best affected in this scene as she was the one who was specially placed. I portrayed her to be provocative in a feminine way to show her vulnerability towards Billy. This scene displayed the fact that Billy's control over the girls was strong and constant.
- Five kinds of silence - focus's most important scenes are "Indefinitely and nothing!" "we felt a bit sad". I imagine focus to be a quiet character, as she is shown to be very emotional in the play, but to avoid sympathy?
