Phenomenology Of Time Edmund Husserl's Analysis Of Timeconsciousness:

Phenomenology of Time Toine Kortooms, Antonie Johannes Maria Kortooms, 2002-02-28 In the fourth part of a lecture series he delivered in 1904/05 and in two later research manuscripts Kortooms U of Nijmegen the Netherlands finds stages of the development of Czech born German philosopher Husserl's 1859-1938 thinking about time consciousness. He considers the context and the first analysis in the lecture series and its developments in the years following three models and genetic phenomenology in the L manuscripts and the last analysis in the C manuscripts. The text was translated into English by Jo Kohler. There is no subject index. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc. Portland, OR.

On Time - New Contributions to the Husserlian Phenomenology of Time Dieter Lohmar, Ichiro Yamaguchi, 2010-06-21 Usually Husserl's analysis of time constitution is thought of in terms of three phases that are roughly bound up with the central publications: the Lectures, the Bernau Manuscripts, and the C Manuscripts. Today, after the publication of the central texts incorporating the last two phases, the discussion of Husserl's analysis of time constitution has entered a new phase. This is true for the interpretation of the latter two texts, but it also affects our reading of the Lectures. Today, in the aftermath of the recent publication of the C Manuscripts, it seems more likely that the seemingly separated first two phases are more close to each other than expected. The new and broader context allows for more thorough interpretation of the whole enterprise of time constitution. By publishing this collection of contributions of the best international experts in this field, entailing some refreshing approaches of new coming researchers, this collection gives an overview of the most contemporary interpretations of this fundamental phenomenological theme.

The Phenomenology of Internal Time-Consciousness Edmund Husserl, 2019-04-29 An exploration of the terrain of consciousness in the light of its temporality from the father of phenomenology. The Phenomenology of Internal Time-Consciousness is a translation of Edmund Husserl's Vorlesungen zur Phänomenologie des inneren Zeitbewusstseins. The first part of the book was originally presented as a lecture course at the University of Göttingen in the winter semester of 1904/1905, while the second part is based on additional supplementary lectures that he gave between 1905 and 1910. The pervading theme of these essays and lectures is the temporal constitution of a pure datum of sensation and the self-constitution of phenomenological time, which underlies such a constitution. Husserl identifies two categories of temporality: retention and protention, and outlines how temporality provides the form for perception, phantasy, imagination, memory, and recollection. He demonstrates a distinction between cosmic and phenomenological time and explores the relevance of phenomenological time for the constitution of temporal objects. The ideas Husserl developed here are explored further in his Ideas and were pursued until the end of his philosophical career. As an addition to the small body of Husserl's writings now available in English (Ideas, 1931; Meditations, 1960), this book is essential to even a small collection of source works on contemporary philosophy.

Choice, Phenomenology and Existentialism in the Twentieth Century Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2009-09-30 Phenomenology and existentialism transformed understanding and experience of the Twentieth Century to their core They had strikingly different inspirations and yet the two waves of thought became merged as both movements flourished The present collection of research devoted to these movements and their unfolding interaction is now especially revealing The studies in this first volume to be followed by two succeeding ones range from the predecessors of existentialism Kierkegaard Jean Wahl Nietzsche to the work of its adherents Shestov Berdyaev Unamuno Blondel Blumenberg Heidegger and Mamardashvili Dufrenne and Merleau Ponty to existentialism's congruence with Christianity or with atheism Among the leading Husserlian insights are treated essence and experience the place of questioning ethics and intentionality temporality and passivity and the life world The following book will uncover the perennial concerns guiding the wondrous interplay of these two inspirational sources

Phenomenology of Time Toine Kortooms, 2002-02-28 Edmund Husserl occupied himself with the analysis of time consciousness throughout his life In this book the three stages that may be distinguished in Husserl's occupation with this theme are discussed in their interrelationship The first stage consists of a lecture manuscript from 1905 the second stage consists of the so called Bernau manuscripts research manuscripts that were written in 1917 and 1918 and the final stage consists of the so called C manuscripts research manuscripts that were written in the late 1920s and the early 1930s Central themes in the discussion of Husserl's phenomenology of time in this book are the connection between the analysis of time consciousness and the analysis of phantasy consciousness and image consciousness Husserl's position in the debate between A Meinong and W Stern concerning the possibility of the perception of time the self constitution of absolute time consciousness the influence of Husserl's development of genetic phenomenology on his analysis of time consciousness and the question of the intentional character of time consciousness

Protention in Husserl's Phenomenology Nikos Soueltzis, 2021-06-09 Every attempt to examine our consciousness's passive life and its dynamic in its various forms inevitably intersects with our primal awareness of the future Even though Husserl's theory of time consciousness enjoys a certain fame his conception of our primordial relation to the future has not been adequately accounted for The book at hand aims to offer a close study of Husserl's view of protentional consciousness and to trace its unique contribution to our overall awareness of time It offers an extensive analysis of various aspects of protention by investigating its connection to different fields and levels of experience To achieve such a task the book stresses the need to enrich the familiar formal account of protention with a material one Thus alongside issues pertaining exclusively to the form of protention such as its relation to fulfillment as well as its double intentional structure various other dimensions are discussed such as the phenomena of disappointment and correction as well as the role hyle plays in both of them In the same vein special attention is given to the relation between protentional consciousness and affectivity thus shedding light on the dynamic unity of our living present What this study purports to show is that Husserl's phenomenology is equipped to offer a solid account of the thinnest and subtlest ways in which we are aware of the future in our experiential life

Timing and Temporality in Islamic Philosophy and Phenomenology of Life Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2007-09-19 From time immemorial concern with timing of life has been crucial for the regulation of human praxis as well as for the philosophical quest to understand existence by seeking its meaning The two used to inform each other until modernity when they parted In spite of the extensive progress in manipulating change and motion and of the abundance of metaphysical attempts to enlighten human beings about their fate the puzzling nature of temporality and timing of reality remains controversial The present collection of studies seeks a new answer by initiating a novel investigation informed by the ancient wisdom of the Greco Arabic Islamic sources and inheritance on the one side and the contemporary discernment of Occidental phenomenology of life on the other in a common dialogical effort to unravel this great enigma of existence Papers by Anna Teresa Tymieniecka William C Chittick Reza Akbarian Daniela Verducci Michael F Andrews Seyyed Mohammed Khamenei Nader El Bizri Mehdi Aminrazavi Massimo Durante Abdul Rahim Afaki Maria Chiara Teloni A L Samian Kathleen Haney Jad Hatem Robert J Dobie Michel Dion The Phenomenology of Edmund Husserl Ludwig Landgrebe,1981
