Reinventing the Singapore 'Model' of Development and Cultural Management for the New Millennium?

C.J.W.-L. Wee

Introduction

In the 1990s it became apparent that economic and political power has shifted away from a geographical location called the 'West' to a less identifiable position in the 'globe' (Comaroff and Comaroff, 2001). At the start of the new millennium 'renaissance' Asia (as Anwar Ibrahim [1996] dubbed it) still consisted of semi-peripheral societies oriented towards a stagnant and weakened Japan and the US market – though the presence of China already loomed large and India was more economically ascendant than before. Even Singapore, despite being less affected by the multiple economic crises of the late 1990s, offered proof of the reality of the structuring and integrating forces of transnational capitalism.

The city state's initial development process from the 1960s to the 1990s might be described as a 'disciplinary modernisation' that had even then functioned within the ambit of a 'West' that was already being reterritorialised within the 'globe' of that period. An Anglicised, bourgeois leadership, scornful of 'retrograde' Asian cultural identities and traditions, and true believers in a quasi-authoritarian capitalism, transformed society. In the process they limited the procedural and other mechanisms that

India-ASEAN Economic Relations Mukul G. Asher, 2006 Revised and updated version of papers presented at the ASEAN India Forum held at Singapore during 9-10 February 2004      Regionale Integration in Ostasien Patrick Ziltener, 2012-09-13 Eine Weltregion ist eine Subagglomeration, die sich durch eine signifikant höhere Interaktionsdichte in einem umfassenderen heute globalen Weltsystem auszeichnet. Stellt Ostasien von China, Korea und Japan im Norden bis Indonesien im Süden eine solche Weltregion dar? Zur Beantwortung der Frage nach dem Regionencharakter Ostasiens werden in dieser umfassenden Studie regionale und globale Geschehenszusammenhänge in ihrer historischen Tiefe rekonstruiert. Seit der Verstärkung der Kontakte in den ersten Jahrhunderten der westlichen Zeitrechnung erlebte Ostasien mehrere Schübe intensiver wirtschaftlicher, politischer und kultureller Integration. Nach einem Tiefpunkt im Gefolge des 2. Weltkrieges, der Entkolonialisierung und Unabhängigkeitskriege ermöglichten die Öffnungs- und Reformprozesse seit den späten 1970er Jahren die rasche Wiederverflechtung der Region. Detailliert untersucht werden das oft informelle Zusammenspiel wirtschaftlicher und politischer Regionalisierung, die Funktionen regionaler Organisationen wie etwa der Asiatischen Entwicklungsbank (ADB) und der transpazifischen Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) sowie die außenpolitischen Interessen und Strategien Japans, Chinas und der ASEAN-Länder im sich herausbildenden ASEAN-plus-System in Ostasien. Es geht dabei um Weichenstellungen, die nicht nur Ostasien als Weltregion auf dem Weg zu einer Gemeinschaft, sondern auch die politische Weltkonomie der Jahrzehnte hinaus prägen werden.      The Reinvention of Distinction Van Nguyen-Marshall, Lisa B. Welch Drummond, Danièle Bélanger, 2011-11-17 This pioneering collection brings together an international group of scholars to explore the Vietnamese middle class. From the leisure pursuits of the colonial middle class to the impact of the new urban rich on the landscape of the countryside, this interdisciplinary volume explores the ways in which middle classness has been practiced in a wide range of contexts throughout the 20th century and into the 21st. In addition to offering insights into how middle classness was and is constituted and negotiated, this collection illuminates the cultural and social conditions of two distinctive periods in Vietnamese history. Three historical chapters consider how middle class status was experienced and displayed under French colonialism and in 1960s republican Vietnam. These chapters offer examinations of middle classness through recreation, consumption and associational life. Six contemporary studies examine the modes of experimentation and practice within middle class urban Vietnam. Still a sensitive topic politically, the contemporary middle class, nascent but increasingly powerful, is exerting a strong impact on the shape of contemporary society and culture as well as on urban and rural landscapes. This volume offers a series of studies which critically interrogate the practices of those who engage in or aspire to urban middle class lifestyles in Vietnam, both in the past and in the present.      Challenges to Democratic Governance in Developing Countries Gedeon Mudacumura, Göktuğ Morçöl, 2014-01-04 Despite the large amounts of human and financial resources invested to foster democratic governance in developing countries, statistics show that the majority of these countries have not yet achieved significant improvements in living standards While some regions make strides towards improving the living conditions of their citizens Sub Saharan Africa for instance is still trapped in poverty with more than 40% of its 600 million people living below the internationally recognized absolute poverty line of one US dollar per day Poor governance and corruption should be highlighted as the most important systemic factors contributing to poverty in developing countries As a result the institutional foundations of these countries are weakened public funds are misappropriated and policies and programs aimed at reducing poverty and fostering sustainable economic growth are undermined It is therefore not surprising that a 2008 Transparency International report found a direct link between corruption and the failure of the societal institutions designed to achieve the Millennium Development Goals in the majority of developing countries This book investigates the problems of democratic governance particularly as they relate to corruption and also whether democracy should be based on universal principles or local context and historical factors It also analyses the rule of law in promoting democratic governance and curbing corruption and if governmental non governmental organizations and civil societies are effective in promoting democratic governance and curbing corruption This book will go beyond identifying the challenges and offer plausible solutions that could be adapted to various developing countries It is premised on the importance of bridging theory and practice which has been lacking in most local and international development publications making of interest to scholars and policy makers alike concerned with public administration in developing countries

Asia in the New Millennium Lai To Lee, Amitav Acharya, 2004 Some 120 participants attended the inaugural Congress of the Asian Political and International Studies Association APISA in Singapore on 28 30 November 2003 Asians from universities and institutes in many countries accounted for about 70 per cent of the participants The First Congress had been two years in the making In November 2001 30 academics from research institutes think tanks and universities introduced the idea of launching an Asian based academic organisation dedicated to the advancement of political and international studies It was the general consensus of the meeting that Asian scholars had been marginalised from the decision making processes of the Western based associations of a similar nature Asian schools of thought had been stifled as a consequence of the American hegemony in the social sciences and that the state of Asian studies in general was underdeveloped In the light of these concerns the APISA was established Drawn from academia and think tanks from across Asia and the Pacific the political and security specialists sociologists historians and economists exchanged ideas and charted new intellectual terrain on the theme Asia in the New Millennium Development Democracy and Security The keynote speaker at the Congress was Dr Surin Pitiswan former Foreign Minister of Thailand and Member of the Commission for Human Security who focused on the need to pursue prominence in Asian scholarship Panels at the APISA Congress transcended disciplinary contours national and regional boundaries and historical confines The panels themes ranged from globalisation identity and community in Asia to electronic government and theory and modernity Offering more regional lenses were the region has been plagued by other issues such as the haze SARS avian influenza and terrorism The global political and economic landscape has also changed radically after the 9 11 attack and the Iraq war Unfortunately after the fall of Suharto in 1998 the ASEAN lost its leadership and the organization floundered without much regional coherence All these global and regional events have affected the developmental trajectories and political developments of states in the region Economically Southeast Asia has been overshadowed by the dynamic economic prowess of China and India in the last five years and there have been serious reservations by Southeast Asian political leader
