Ethical Issues in Preventive Medicine S.

Doxiadis, 2012-12-06 The first suggestions and exchange of ideas for this Workshop began about two years ago when at the invitation of Professor E Bennett Director of Health and Safety of the Commission of the European Communities and Professor W W Holland of the Panel of Social Medicine and Epidemiology of the EEC I asked the Panel to sponsor a project for the study of Ethical Issues in Preventive Medicine The Panel gave its approval and support and asked Dr L Karhausen Dr R Blaney and me to undertake the planning Since then we have had several meetings in Brussels and have added Professor Heleen Terborgh Dupuis and Mrs Susie Stewart to our small planning team The Planning Committee invited many experts to collaborate with us on the project and as can be seen from the list of participants they represent many scientific disciplines and many countries About a year ago we also asked for the help and sponsorship of the NATO Science Council which was generously given The culmination of our efforts was the Workshop held in Athens in January 1985 the proceedings of which are contained in the present book The members of the Planning Committee and the participants at the Workshop would like to express thanks to Mr H Durand Secretary General for NATO Scientific Affairs and Dr M di Lullo Programme Director of NATO Scientific Affairs and to Professor Bennett and Professor Holland for all the moral and financial support they have given to this project

Brandell, 2010-02-16 Today's clinical social workers face a spectrum of social issues and problems of a scope and severity hardly imagined just a few years ago and an ever widening domain of responsibility to overcome them. Theory and Practice in Clinical Social Work is the authoritative handbook for social work clinicians and graduate social work students that keeps pace with rapid social changes and presents carefully devised methods, models, and techniques for responding to the needs of an increasingly diverse clientele. Following an overview of the principal frameworks for clinical practice including systems theory, behavioral and cognitive theories, psychoanalytic theory, and neurobiological theory, the book goes on to present the major social crises, problems, and new populations the social work clinician confronts each day. Theory and Practice in Clinical Social Work includes 29 original chapters, many with carefully crafted and detailed clinical illustrations by leading social work scholars and master clinicians who represent the widest variety of clinical orientations and specializations. Collectively, these leading authors have treated nearly every conceivable clinical population in virtually every practice context using a full array of treatment approaches and modalities. Included in this volume are chapters on practice with adults and children, clinical social work with adolescents, family therapy, and children's treatment groups. Other chapters focus on social work with communities affected by disasters and terrorism, clinical case management, cross-cultural clinical practice, psychopharmacology, practice with older adults, and mourning and loss. The extraordinary breadth of coverage will make this book an essential source of information for students in advanced practice courses and practicing social workers alike.
