Davis,1996-01-31 The papers in this volume were presented at the Fifth Biennial Symposium of the Department of Linguistics Rice University March 1993 The participants were asked to concentrate in depth and in a self reflective way upon some range of data The intent was multifold The first purpose was descriptive It was expected that the participants would carry out their task in a retrospective way exemplifying and building upon their previous work but it was also expected that they would begin to demonstrate the configuration of some area in a more comprehensive picture of language The point was to take at least one substantive step in the depiction of what we think language will ultimately be like The contributions were both specific and generalizing with focus as much upon methodology as upon hypotheses about language In examining descriptive practice we continued to concentrate upon issues which concerned us all and at the same time we tried to advance the discourse by the results of such description We hoped that problematic and recalcitrant data would make our own practice clearer to us and that it might also instruct us in the refinement of our conceptions of language Multimodality, Interaction and Turn-taking in Mandarin Conversation Xiaoting Li,2014-07-17 One major feature of conversation is that people take turns to speak Based on audio and video recordings of naturally occurring Mandarin conversation this book explores the role of syntax prosody body movements as well as their interplay in turn organization in the temporal unfolding of action and interaction Adopting the methodology of interactional linguistics this book offers a fine grained analysis of the three multimodal resources and the sequential environments in which they appear It demonstrates that syntax prosody and body movements not only converge but also diverge in projecting possible turn completion As one of the few systematic studies of multimodality in Mandarin interaction this book will be of interest to researchers in Chinese linguistics interactional linguistics conversation analysis and multimodal analysis   Pragmatics ,2008   Cross-cultural Pragmatics and Interlanguage English Bettina Kraft,2007   Partials in English Conversation Kemtong Sinwongsuwat,2007   Language ,1996   Journal of Linguistics ,1993   Pragmatics in 2000 Enikő Németh T.,2001   It-extraposition and Non-extraposition in English Gunther Kaltenböck,2004 Kaltenbock English and American studies University of Vienna investigates the syntactic and functional properties of it extraposition and non extraposition in both spoken and written contemporary British English The study is based on a large scale corpus analysis of data obtained from the British component of the International Corpus of English The author examines the syntactic semantic and stylistic factors inhibiting or restricting the possibility of extraposition and the functional factors influencing the choice between use of it extraposition and non extraposition Distributed in the U S by Purdue U Press Annotation 2004 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com   Institutional Discourse in Cross-cultural Contexts Ronald Geluykens,Bettina Kraft,2008   NP-anaphora in Modern Greek Michael Chiou,2010 Anaphora is one of the most fascinating linguistic phenomena as it constitutes a unique and universal property of human language Every single natural language provides linguistic means which facilitate speakers to refer to entities in the world The understanding of the complexity of anaphora and of the problems surrounding it will ameliorate our understanding of the nature of human languages This explains why anaphora constitutes a central research topic in contemporary linguistic science This study examines the phenomenon of NP anaphora with the main focus on modern Greek By maintaining the empirical and theoretical benefits of the classical generative approach to binding in this study we propose a partial pragmatic reduction of the interpretation of NP anaphora in modern Greek in terms of the neo Gricean pragmatic principles of communication The proposed analysis is articulated on the following basis it is argued that the choice of anaphoric expressions and their interpretation by Greek speakers and addressees respectively is heavily dependent on preference which is regulated by principles of language use and communication Therefore by employing a model which is based on the systematic interaction of the neo Gricean pragmatic principles of communication we provide a neat and more elegant approach to NP anaphora resolution for modern Greek In a nutshell this study offers a quite new perspective into the study of NP anaphora in modern Greek but it is also a little step towards a better understanding of the phenomenon of anaphora across languages   Journal of Chinese Linguistics ,1995   Bibliographie internationale des recensions de la littérature savante ,1974   Functions of Language ,1994   中国语文索引 ,2014
