Reinventing Richard Nixon Daniel E. Frick, 2008 Examining Nixon's autobiographies and political memorabilia Frick offers far reaching perceptions not only of the man but of Nixon's version of himself contrasted with those who would interpret him differently He cites reinventions of Nixon from the late 1980s particularly the museum at the Richard Nixon Library and Birthplace to demonstrate the resilience of certain national mythic narratives in the face of liberal critiques And he recounts how celebrants at Nixon's state funeral at which Bob Dole's eulogy depicted a God fearing American hero attempted to bury the sources of our divisions over him rendering in some minds the judgment of redeemed statesman to erase his status as disgraced president With dozens of illustrations Nixon posing with Elvis the National Archives most requested photo Nixonian cultural artifacts classic editorial cartoons no other book collects in one place such varied images of Nixon from so many diverse media These reinforce Frick's probing analysis to help us understand why we disagree about Nixon and why it matters how we resolve our disagreements

Reinventing Fire Amory Lovins, 2013-09-11 Oil and coal have built our civilisation created our wealth and enriched the lives of billions Yet their rising costs to our security economy health and environment are starting to outweigh their benefits Moreover the tipping point where alternatives work better and compete purely on cost is not decades in the future it is here and now And that tipping point has become the fulcrum of economic transformation In Reinventing Fire Amory Lovins and the Rocky Mountain Institute offer a new vision to revitalise business models and win the clean energy race not forced by public policy but led by business for long term advantage This independent and rigorous account offers market based solutions integrating transportation buildings industry and electricity It maps pathways for running a 158% bigger US economy in 2050 but needing no oil no coal no nuclear energy one third less natural gas and no new inventions This transition would cost 5 trillion less than business as usual without counting fossil fuels huge hidden costs Whether you care most about profits and jobs or national security or environmental stewardship climate and health Reinventing Fire makes sense It's a story of astounding

Reinventing The University Christopher Schroeder, 2001-03 Christopher Schroeder spends almost no time disputing David Bartholomae's famous essay but throughout ReInventing the University he elaborates an approach to teaching composition that is at odds with the tradition that essay has come to represent On the other hand his approach is also at odds with elements of the pedagogies of such theorists as Berlin Bizzell and Shor Schroeder argues that for students postmodern instability in literacy and meaning has become a question of the legitimacy of current discourse of education Schroeder is committed then to constructing literacies jointly with students and by so doing to bringing students to engage more deeply with education and society Reinventing Higher Education Ben Wildavsky, Andrew P. Kelly, Kevin Carey, 2011-04-01 The inspiration for this timely book is the pressing need for fresh ideas and innovations in U S higher education At the heart of the volume is the realization that higher education must evolve in fundamental ways if it is to respond to changing professional economic and technological circumstances and if it is to successfully reach and prepare a vast population of students traditional and nontraditional alike for success in the coming decades This collection of provocative articles by leading scholars writers innovators and university administrators examines the current higher education environment and its chronic resistance to change the rise of for profit universities the potential future role of community colleges in a significantly revised higher education realm and the emergence of online learning as a means to reshape teaching and learning and to reach new consumers of higher education Combining trenchant critiques of current conditions with thought
