River Basin Management Planning in Indonesia Asian Development Bank, 2016-06-01 This publication summarizes the strengths challenges opportunities and risks characterizing the prospects for integrated water resources management in Indonesia Integrated water resources management planning is essential for sustainable growth Indonesia s rapid economic growth increasing populations and trends in developing and urbanizing environments are leading to potential conflicts as more users claim the same water resources Understanding these conditions may provide decision makers with more insight to optimize the country s water resources potential using available and state of the art methodologies and tools for river basin planning The report discusses all aspects of basin planning based on experiences from one of Indonesia s most complex and strategic river basins River Basin Planning Principles UNESCO, 2013 River Basin Planning and Management

I. Betlem, 1995 River Basin Planning and Management Mahmoud A. Abu-Zeid, Asit K. Biswas, 1996 This book focuses on some strategic national and regional aspects of water in the regions of the Nile Basin ie Middle East and North Africa Water is one of the main development challenges facing the Nile countries Problems of frequent and prolonged drought and water quality in ground and surface waters are becoming very serious Water quality is being considered by some to be the most serious issue the country will have to address Comprehensive management of the regions water resources will increasingly require agreements at National and transnational levels An integrated approach for national and basin wide development could contribute significantly in dealing with the problems This book identifies technical solutions in a broad comprehensive framework which may contribute to an environmentally sustainable development benefitting all the Nile countries

Implementing Integrated River Basin Management François Molle, Thai Hoanh Chu, 2009 The report focuses on the establishment of the Red River Basin Organization RRBO in Vietnam but expands its analysis to the wider transformations of the water sector that impinge on the formation and effectiveness of this organization A few reflections on the policy process are drawn from this analysis albeit in a tentative form given the relatively limited period of time considered here The report shows that the promotion of IWRM icons such as RBOs by donors has been quite disconnected from the existing institutional framework However the establishment of RBOs might eventually strengthen a better separation of operation and regulation roles Institutional change is shown to result from the interaction between endogenous processes and external pressures in ways that are barely predictable Planning and Managing Water Resources at the River-basin Level François

Molle, 2006 The concept of a river basin as a management or planning unit has gone through several stages and is in a state of flux Review of Integrated Approaches to River Basin Planning , Development, and Management , River Basin Planning and Management Ilja Betlem, 1995 Strategic Water Management: International Experience and Practices - Vol. II - Basin Water Allocation Planning , 2013 Proceedings of Workshop on Integrated River Basin Planning and Management 2002 , 2002 Review of Integrated Approaches to River Basin Planning, Development and

Management Donna Jean Lee, Ariel Dinar, 1995      Seminar on River Basin Planning, Ft. Belvoir, Virginia, 27-31 May, 1963, 1963      Water for Life Livelihoods Environment Agency, 2011      Organization and Methodology for River Basin Planning Carl Edward Kindsvater, 1964      River Contracts and Integrated Water Management in Europe Maria Laura Scaduto, 2016-08-08 This book aims to stimulate new thinking on the roles of river contracts in the protection and management of hydrographic resources and ecosystems and in the sustainable development of dependent territories and communities Up to date information is provided on a range of topics relating to river contracts including their relevance to implementation of the EU Water Framework Directive on integrated river basin management The importance of river contracts for innovation in territorial planning and governance is explored with the aid of comparative analysis between France and Italy that encompasses water management policies legislative frameworks contents and procedures and stakeholder rules and participation This analysis is supported by enlightening case studies in urbanized and rural contexts within the two countries The book will be of high interest for all who wish to understand the potential of river contracts to create innovative forums for dialogue and knowledge sharing between public private stakeholders and local communities and to prompt a new form of governance of river ecosystems and territories that is compliant with the subsidiarity principle

River Basin Management John Lawson, 2005-09-15 River Basin Management is a collection of papers presented at a conference on implementation of the EU Water Framework Directive held in Budapest in May 2005 The Water Framework Directive requires progressive protection and enhancement to rivers lakes estuaries coastal waters and wetlands by the year 2015 At the heart of this major new piece of legislation is the requirement for all EU member states to prepare river basin management plans for all river basin catchments providing the basis for coordinated improvements to water management leading to better water quality and sustainable aquatic environments in lakes and rivers The papers cover a wide range of topics including pilot studies for the development of river basin management plans public participation in the planning process water quality monitoring modeling and analysis identifying and addressing pollution and meeting environmental objectives The book presents an array of experience from eighteen European countries in the implementation of the EU's most far reaching environmental legislation It is an invaluable source of information and ideas for the widespread preparation of river basin management plans now starting throughout Europe      River Basin Planning: Natural and Socio-cultural Processes C. J. Barrow, 1982 Sustainable development of river basin resources will probably require basin planning and management authorities to blend environmental impact assessment and socio cultural socio economic impact assessment teams together Environmental economists may help decision making where development goals conflict The river basin planning approach requires better development of methods for selecting and managing multidisciplinary teams The approach has potential but is far from perfection Author's abstract      Water for Life and Livelihoods Environment Agency, 2011      Managing Water Resources in Large River Basins William Young, Nagaraja Rao Harshadeep, 2021

Management of water resources in large rivers basins typically differs in important ways from management in smaller basins. While in smaller basins the focus of water resources management may be on project implementation, irrigation and drainage management, water use efficiency and flood operations in larger basins because of the greater complexity and competing interests, there is often a greater need for long term strategic river basin planning across sectors and jurisdictions and considering social, environmental and economic outcomes. This puts a focus on sustainable development including consumptive water use and non consumptive water uses such as inland navigation and hydropower. It also requires the consideration of hard or technical issues, data modeling, infrastructure as well as soft issues of governance including legal frameworks, policies, institutions and political economy. Rapidly evolving technologies could play a significant role in managing large basins. This Special Issue of Water traverses these hard and soft aspects of managing water resources in large river basins through a series of diverse case studies from across the globe that demonstrate recent advances in both technical and governance innovations in river basin management.

River Basin Planning: an Indian Guide, 2019-10-18

Rivers are celebrated through story and worship in India, some are considered goddesses and declared as nature's wonder. Despite the importance of rivers and aquifers in India, their management faces critical challenges including water scarcity and competition. River basin planning is an important tool for responding to these challenges. In response to a Government of India request for support in how to go about basin planning, this Guide outlines key stages of river basin planning for practitioners in India. The purpose of this document is to provide an aid to working through the fundamental stages of river basin planning to ensure that the resulting plan meets the requirements of the Water Policy 2012 and CWC Guidelines on IWRM and River Basin Master Plans.
