based on the author's hands on experience in multiple proposal roles for over three decades is that proposals do not go off the rails owing to an inability to implement advanced techniques and complicated processes. They fail because of inattention to fundamental activities. Other business books cover some of these fundamental activities. However, proposals differ because of their tight constraints: deadlines, the need for perfect compliance with detailed instructions, fierce competition for limited funds, the consequences of not winning, and the stress that inevitably accompanies the process. Focusing solely on the preparation of the written proposal document and not on sales, negotiation, marketing, or customer interaction, this book dives into the details of the tasks facing the person actually accountable and responsible for preparation and delivery of the proposal. Proposal managers of all levels, from first timers to seasoned pros, looking to polish their skills, as well as those who participate in the proposal process but are not intimately familiar with it, artists, technical writers, project managers, accountants, and others will benefit from the processes and tools described in this book.
