Byun, 2023-05-16 What type of relationship did New Testament churches have with one another Was it a relationship of conflict and competition Or was it a loose aggregation of individual churches scattered across the Roman Empire Or can it be described as a cohesive partnership for the common cause of the gospel of Christ Most New Testament church activities are recorded in connection with Paul s ministry In this sense the present study started on the premise that close attention to Paul s partnership ministry would offer a richer understanding of New Testament church relationships By exploring some ministry areas such as Paul s coworkers financial assistance and communicative activities this book demonstrates that Paul s churches occasioned and mediated by Paul s partnership ministry were engaged in networking and collaboration far more closely than has generally been assumed not only among themselves but also with non Pauline churches Paul s partnership ministry significantly contributed to the relationship of New Testament churches The Church in Antioch in the First Century CE Michelle Slee, 2003-01-01 The book explores the problems faced by the church in Antioch in the mid first century CE once the decision was taken to welcome Gentiles into the church Slee argues that a particular problem was the celebration of the Eucharist since some Jewish Christians felt that the table fellowship this involved inevitably brought the risk of contamination because of Gentile contact with idolatry She suggests this was the subject debated at the Jerusalem conference described in Acts 15 and Galatians 2 and it was the eventual decision of the Antioch church to hold separate Eucharists that led to Paul's break with the church Gal 2 11 14 Thus even at the end of the first century CE the Antioch church was still divided on the issue
