Phenomenology and the Human Sciences J.N. Mohanty, 2012-07-24      Phenomenology and the Human Sciences
Stephan Strasser, 1963      Phenomenology and the Social Sciences Maurice Natanson, 1973 The idea of this anthology is to explore the relationships between phenomenology and the social sciences      Phenomenology and the Human Sciences 1981
Jitendra Nath Mohanty, 1982      Foundations of Morality, Human Rights, and the Human Sciences Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, Calvin O. Schrag, 1983-04-30 The essays in this volume constitute a portion of the research program being carried out by the International Society for Phenomenology and the Human Sciences Established as an affiliate society of the World Institute for Advanced Phenomenological Research and Learning in 1976 in Arezzo Italy by the president of the Institute Dr Anna Teresa Tymieniecka this particular society is devoted to an exploration of the relevance of phenomenological methods and insights for an understanding of the origins and goals of the specialised human sciences The essays printed in the first part of the book were originally presented at the Second Congress of this society held at Purdue University West Lafayette Indiana 12 14 July 1979 The second part of the volume consists of selected essays from the third convention the Eleventh International Congress of Phenomenology of the World Phenomenology Institute held in Cambridge Massachusetts in 1981 With the third part of this book we pass into the Human Rights issue as treated by the World Phenomenology Institute at the Interamerican Philosophy Congress held in Tallahassee Florida also in 1981 The volume opens with a monograph by Anna Teresa Tymieniecka on the foundations of ethics in the moral practice within the life world and the social world shown as clearly distinct The main ideas of this work had been presented by Tymieniecka as lead lectures to the three conferences giving them a tight research project consistency      The Interrelation of Phenomenology, Social Sciences and the Arts Michael Barber, Jochen Dreher, 2013-11-04 This book features papers written by renowned international scholars that analyze the interdependence of art phenomenology and social science The papers show how the analysis of the production as well as the perception and interpretation of art work needs to take into consideration the subjective viewpoint of the artist in addition to that of the interpreter Phenomenology allows a description of the subjectively centered life world of the individual actor artist or interpreter and the objective structures of literature music and the aesthetic domain in general The perspective of social science serves to reconstruct the socio historical structure involved in the creation and reception of the art work The authors concentrate on this specific theoretical focus which combines both phenomenology and social science and offers an innovative framework for the analysis of works of art from the fields of literature music visual arts photography and film Some of the contributions present creative interpretations of a variety of distinct art works in addition to the realization of theoretical reflections on the interdependence of arts phenomenology and social science This book features papers that were presented at the international and interdisciplinary conference Phenomenology Social Sciences and the Arts held at the University of Konstanz May 2009 in commemoration of philosopher and social scientist Alfred Schutz the developer of phenomenologically oriented sociology It will appeal to researchers scholars and students in phenomenology social sciences art theory and the arts     Studies in Phenomenology and the Human Sciences John Sallis,1979     Phenomenology and the Social Sciences Maurice Natanson,1973     Phenomenology and the human sciences in Japan George Psathas,1992     History as a Science and the System of the Sciences Thomas M. Seebohm,2015-04-09 This volume goes beyond presently available phenomenological analyses based on the structures and constitution of the lifeworld It shows how the science of history is the mediator between the human and the natural sciences It demonstrates that the distinction between interpretation and explanation does not imply a strict separation of the natural and the human sciences Finally it shows that the natural sciences and technology are inseparable but that technology is one sidedly founded in pre scientific encounters with reality in the lifeworld In positivism the natural sciences are sciences because they offer causal explanations testable in experiments and the humanities are human sciences only if they use methods of the natural sciences For epistemologists following Dilthey the human sciences presuppose interpretation and the human and natural sciences must be separated There is phenomenology interested in psychology and the social sciences that distinguish the natural and the human sciences but little can be found about the historical human sciences This volume fills the gap by presenting analyses of the material foundations of the understanding of expressions of other persons and of primordial recollections and expectations founding explicit expectations and predictions in the lifeworld Next it shows on the basis of history as applying philological methods in interpretations of sources the role of a universal spatio temporal framework for reconstructions and causal explanations of what has really happened     Phenomenology, Language and the Social Sciences Maurice Roche,1973     Phenomenology, Science and Geography John Pickles,1985-03-07 Asking the questions What is human science Is a truly human science of geography possible and What notions of spatiality adequately describe human spatial experience and behaviour this book sets out answers through a discussion of the nature of the human sciences and of the role of phenomenology in such inquiry     Phenomenology and the Social World Laurie Spurling,2013-10-15 The term phenomenology has become almost as over used and emptied of meaning as that other word from Continental Philosophy namely existentialism Yet Husserl who first put forward the phenomenological method considered it a rigorous alternative to positivism and in the hands of Merleau Ponty a disciple of Husserl in France phenomenology became a way of gaining a disciplined and coherent perspective on the world in which we live When this study originally published in 1977 there were only a few books in English on Merleau Ponty s philosophy It introduced the reader and suggested how his thought might throw light on some of the assumptions and presuppositions of certain contemporary forms of Anglo Saxon philosophy and social science It also demonstrates how phenomenology seeks to unite philosophy and social science rather than define them as mutually exclusive domains of knowledge     Phenomenology and Human Science Research Today Massimiliano Tarozzi,2010     The Human Science of Communicology Richard L.

Lanigan, 1992 Communicology is the study of human discourse in all of its forms ranging from human gesture and speech to art and television. Communicology also represents the dominant qualitative research paradigm in the discipline of human communication especially in the applied areas of mass communication, philosophy of communication and speech communication. Lanigan's work offers the bold and original thesis that Michel Foucault's thematic study of the discourse of desire and power is an elaboration of the problematic discourse explicated in Maurice Merleau-Ponty's interrogation of freedom and terror. Various chapters cover such topics as art versus science, culture and communication, modernity versus postmodernity, feminism versus humanism, research methodology and the capta versus data distinction for research validity. Actual examples of research cover the aesthetics of painting and sculpture, radio and television, rhetorical criticism of oral and written texts and the East-West perspective on cross-cultural encounter, all using the approach of semiotic phenomenology. Two special features of this book make it useful for both teacher and scholar alike. First, Lanigan provides an encyclopedic dictionary that illustrates and defines the theory and method of the human sciences in general and the discipline of communicology in particular. Used for several years by teachers in a number of universities, this dictionary had already become a classic among students before its publication here. Second, Lanigan analyzes and illustrates what has been missing for years in the study of Foucault's work: a definition with appropriate illustrative figures and tables of Foucault's method of archaeology and genealogy, criticism for research in the human sciences especially in the study of human discourse.

Phenomenology of Practice Max van Manen, 2023-06-08 Max van Manen offers an extensively updated edition of Phenomenology of Practice: Meaning-Giving Methods in Phenomenological Research and Writing to provide an eloquent, accessible and detailed approach to practicing phenomenology. Phenomenology of practice refers to the meaning of doing phenomenology on experiences that are of significance to those in professional practice such as psychology, health care, education and in contexts of ordinary living. A special feature of this update is the role of examples, anecdotes, stories and vignettes and the singularity of fictionalized empirical fragments in making the unknowable knowable. Accordingly, the various chapters are enriched with many intelligible examples of phenomenological essays and excursions on ordinary and extraordinary topics. These examples show that a phenomenological method can be engaged to explore virtually any lived experience or event. Max van Manen provides penetrating portrayals of depthful insights by brilliant phenomenologists. He identifies and distinguishes a variety of phenomenological orientations that are alive and current today. This book is relevant to scholars, students and motivated readers interested in the originary meanings and methods of phenomenological human science enquiry. Max van Manen's comprehensive work is of significance to all concerned with the interrelation between being and acting, thoughtfulness and tact in human sciences research and the phenomenology of everyday life.
