Phantom Of The Cinema Character In Moder:

Terrence Malick and the Thought of Film Steven Rybin, 2011-11-17 As the director of Badlands Days of Heaven The Thin Red Line and The New World Terrence Malick has created a remarkable body of work that enables imaginative acts of philosophical interpretation Steven Rybin's Terrence Malick and the Thought of Film looks closely at the dialogue between Malick's films and our powers of thinking showing how his work casts the philosophy of thinkers such as Stanley Cavell Martin Heidegger Walter Benjamin Andr Bazin Edgar Morin and Immanuel Kant in new cinematic light With a special focus on how the voices of Malick's characters move us to thought Terrence Malick and the Thought of Film offers new readings of his films and places Malick's work in the context of recent debates in the interdisciplinary field of film and philosophy Rybin also provides a postscript on Malick's recently released fifth film The Tree of Life Jahresbibliographie

Massenkommunikation, 2000 Deleuze and the Schizoanalysis of Cinema Ian Buchanan, Patricia MacCormack, 2008-08-15 In 1971 Deleuze and Guattari's collaborative work Anti Oedipus Capitalism and Schizophrenia caused an international sensation by fusing Marx with a radically rewritten Freud to produce a new approach to critical thinking which they provocatively called schizoanalysis Deleuze and the Schizoanalysis of Cinema explores the possibilities of using this concept to investigate cinematic works in both the Hollywood and non Hollywood tradition It attempts to define what a schizoanalysis of cinema might be and introduces a variety of ways in which a schizoanalysis might be applied This collection opens up a fresh field of inquiry for Deleuze scholars and poses an exciting challenge to cinema studies in general Featuring some of the most important cinema studies scholars working on Deleuze and Guattari today Deleuze and the Schizoanalysis of Cinema is a cutting edge collection that will set the agenda for future work in this area Contributors include Gregory Flaxman Amy Herzog Joe Hughes Gregg Lambert Patricia MacCormack Bill Marshall David Martin Jones Elena Oxman Patricia Pisters Anna Powell and Mark Riley Current Contents, 1999 Forthcoming Books Rose

Army, 1997-12 Stardom and the Aesthetics of Neorealism Ora Gelley, 2012-08-21 In this exciting new book Gelley considers the collaboration between Rossellini and Ingrid Bergman in light of the neorealist aesthetic This study re examines the director's postwar works in relation to the contemporary discussion on Italian national identity rather than marking a radical break with the director's early neorealist successes Rossellini's films with Bergman in fact extend the boundaries of neorealism and challenge the standard reading of its basic tenets especially the relationship between character and setting Gelley reassesses the relationship between European postwar and American cinema looking at how the image of the Hollywood star was translated and transformed when it was imported into Rossellini's Italy Rossellini's insertion of the Hollywood star into the native landscape had a significant influence on the director's approach to the neorealist aesthetic His filming of the encounter between Bergman and the Italian landscape involves not only a re interpretation and transformation of the Hollywood star persona but also a challenge to the idealized notion of an authentic Italian national collective free of foreign influence The disruption of Bergman s character into the Italian landscape became one means whereby the director was able to explore the ambivalence inherent in any attempt to construct a national identity Reverberations Susan Ingram,Markus Reisenleitner,Cornelia Szabó-Knotik,2002 The contributions in this volume address the ways the two imagined cultural spaces commonly designed as Central Europe and North America have mutually attributed meanings to each other and set out to trace patterns and structures resulting from this process Rather than concentrate on what happens when cultural forms and practices travel across the Atlantic the focus lies on the contexts of their insertion into the other culture The articles draw attention to how those complexities and contradictions are resolved on an ideological basis in order to produce the kind of stability that is the hallmark of geo cultural place signification but also conversely the revenge of a spatialized history the reassertion of their temporality that cultural practices produce when they reverberate in displacement
