EJB Reviews 1989 P. Christen,E. Hofmann,2013-12-21 EJB Reviews 1989 offer the collection of all reviews published in the European Journal of Biochemistry in one handy volume This series of review articles by leading scientists covers emerging and rapidly growing fields of research in fundamental as well as in applied areas of biochemistry such as medicine biotechnology agriculture and nutrition Novel methodological and technological approaches which stimulate biochemical research are also included All authors review their field in a very critical selective evaluative manner with emphasis on interdisciplinary aspects wherever possible

Phosphorus Chemistry II Jean-Luc Montchamp,2015-03-06 Each review within the volume critically surveys one aspect of that topic and places it within the context of the volume as a whole The most significant developments of the last 5 to 10 years are presented using selected examples to illustrate the principles discussed The coverage is not intended to be an exhaustive summary of the field or include large quantities of data but should rather be conceptual concentrating on the methodological thinking that will allow the non specialist reader to understand the information presented Contributions also offer an outlook on potential future developments in the field the modification and maturation of RNAs the function of small non coding RNAs and the CRISPR Cas defense system While Archaea have long been considered exotic microbial extremophiles they are now increasingly being recognized as important model microorganisms for the study of molecular mechanisms conserved across the three domains of life and with regard to the relevance of similarities and differences to eukaryotes and bacteria This unique book offers a valuable resource for all readers interested in the regulation of gene expression in Archaea and RNA metabolism in general The Poetical Works of Geoffrey Chaucer with an Essay on His Language and Versification and an Introductory Discourse Geoffrey Chaucer,1883

The Biology of Moulting in Birds Lukas Jenni,Raffael Winkler,2020-09-17 The first comprehensive review of all aspects of the biology of moulting drawing information from across the literature and in all birds from penguins to passerines Feathers are amazing structures unique to birds and for a variety of reasons they need to be renewed periodically as a whole in a process called moulting During this process all of the functions of plumage are impaired and most aspects of a bird's life are affected Every moulting determines a bird's appearance anew and restores plumage efficacy for flight and insulation Moulting profoundly affects physiology and the organization of the annual cycle and it constrains reproduction and migration Given these major impacts which are equal to the other annual challenges of reproduction and migration it is surprising that research on moulting has largely been so neglected a subject Lukas Jenni and Raffael Winkler have brought together the widely scattered results of studies on the processes and consequences of moulting in birds This book opens with an overview of the functions of plumage and of feather maintenance and feather wear and then introduces the two functions of moulting replacement of worn feathers and adjustment of plumage characteristics and appearance The body of the book then examines feather growth and the physiology energetics and control of moulting and how various other physiological processes interact with moulting and may compensate for its costs Significantly the authors explain how variations in moulting and feather quality affect a bird's overall plumage quality and they highlight the resulting consequences in terms of physical performance appearance and signalling Finally there is a review of all the various solutions that birds have developed to fit moulting into the annual cycle This long awaited book covers for the first time all aspects of the biology of moulting and fills an important gap in the literature completing our understanding of how the most important annual events in a bird's life fit together into a coherent whole It draws on a wide range of information from penguins to small passerines from raptors to wildfowl to highlight the variety of the subject and to pinpoint the many gaps in our knowledge along with avenues for fruitful further research Science Citation Index ,1995 Vols for 1964 have guides and journal lists Climate Change 2013 - The Physical Science Basis Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC),2014-03-24 This Fifth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC will again form the standard scientific reference for all those concerned with climate change and its consequences including students and researchers in environmental science meteorology climatology biology ecology and atmospheric chemistry It provides invaluable material for decision makers and stakeholders at international national and local level in government businesses and NGOs This volume provides An authoritative and unbiased overview of the physical science basis of climate change A more extensive assessment of changes observed throughout the climate system than ever before New dedicated chapters on sea level change biogeochemical cycles clouds and aerosols and regional climate phenomena Extensive coverage of model projections both near term and long term climate projections A detailed assessment of climate change observations modelling and attribution for every continent A new comprehensive atlas of global and regional climate projections for 35 regions of the world
