The Power Brokers: The Battle for F1's Billions Alan Henry, 2003 The world's major car makers decided in February to seize the reins of Formula 1 from its controllers Bernie Ecclestone and Max Mosley This resulted in an epic struggle and the focus of interest for many years There is no one better qualified than Alan Henry to reveal how Ecclestone and Mosley did it how they bent the world's largest corporations to their will and made personal fortunes along the way Formula 1 has the biggest global audience of any spectator sport It is by far the best read sub sector of the motor titles There is an appetite for this book in all the countries where Formula 1 races are held and all the countries which Formula 1 teams represent

Self-determination for Youth with Disabilities, 1994 Aspiration and Ambivalence Vanda Felbab-Brown, 2012-11-05 After more than a decade of great effort and sacrifice by America and its allies the Taliban still has not been defeated and many Afghans believe that a civil war is coming Aspiration and Ambivalence analyzes the U S and international efforts in Afghanistan and offers detailed recommendations for dealing with the precarious situation leading up to the 2014 transition to Afghan control and beyond Vanda Felbab Brown argues that allied efforts in Afghanistan have put far too little emphasis on good governance concentrating too much on short term military goals to the detriment of long term peace and stability The Western tendency to ally with bullies warlords smugglers and other shady characters in pursuit of short term military advantage actually empowers the forces working against good governance and long term political stability Rampant corruption and mafia rule thus persist making it impossible for Afghans to believe in the institutional reforms and rule of law that are clearly necessary This must change otherwise the chances of building responsive and sustainable governmental structures are slim indeed Felbab Brown combines thorough research and analysis with vivid personal accounts of her time spent in the war torn nation powerful vignettes illustrating the Afghan aspirations for peace stability and sovereignty and the stubborn obstacles to securing them The year 2014 will mark a critical juncture in Afghanistan's odyssey After more than a decade of arduous fighting and political involvement the U S and international presence there will be significantly reduced and circumscribed Although the international community has committed itself not to abandon Afghanistan as it did in the 1990s the onus will be on the Afghan government to provide for the security of the country its economic development and governance that attempts to meet the needs of the Afghan people Difficult challenges major unresolved questions and worrisome trends surround all three sets of processes The biggest hole in the U S strategy and international efforts to stabilize the country is the failure to adequately address the country's fractured and brittle political system and very poor governance from Aspiration and Ambivalence Infantry, 2008 Brokers and Career Mobility Systems in the Structure of Complex Societies Richard Newbold Adams, 1970 The Power Brokers Jeremiah D. Lambert, 2015-08-28

How the interplay between government regulation and the private sector has shaped the electric industry from its nineteenth century origins to twenty first century market restructuring For more than a century the interplay between private investor owned electric utilities and government regulators has shaped the electric power industry in the United States Provision of an essential service to largely dependent consumers invited government oversight and ever more sophisticated market intervention The industry has sought to manage co opt and profit from government regulation In The Power Brokers Jeremiah Lambert maps this complex interaction from the late nineteenth century to the present day Lambert s narrative focuses on seven important industry players Samuel Insull the principal industry architect and prime mover David Lilienthal chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority TVA who waged a desperate battle for market share Don Hodel who presided over the Bonneville Power Administration BPA in its failed attempt to launch a multi plant nuclear power program Paul Joskow the MIT economics professor who foresaw a restructured and competitive electric power industry Enron s Ken Lay master of political influence and market rigging Amory Lovins a pioneer proponent of sustainable power and Jim Rogers head of Duke Energy a giant coal fired utility threatened by decarbonization Lambert tells how Insull built an empire in a regulatory vacuum and how the government entered the electricity marketplace by making cheap hydropower available through the TVA He describes the failed overreach of the BPA the rise of competitive electricity markets Enron s market manipulation Lovins s radical vision of a decentralized industry powered by renewables and Rogers s remarkable effort to influence cap and trade legislation Lambert shows how the power industry has sought to use regulatory change to preserve or secure market dominance and how rogue players have gamed imperfectly restructured electricity markets Integrating regulation and competition in this industry has proven a difficult experiment

Elliot Brownlee, Hugh Davis Graham, 2003 Table of contents    The New Urban Park Hal Rothman, 2004 From Yellowstone to the Great Smoky Mountains America s national parks are sprawling tracts of serenity most of them carved out of public land for recreation and preservation around the turn of the last century America has changed dramatically since then and so has its conceptions of what parkland ought to be In this book one of our premier environmental historians looks at the new phenomenon of urban parks focusing on San Francisco's Golden Gate National Recreation Area as a prototype for the twenty-first century. Cobbled together from public and private lands in a politically charged arena, the GGNRA represents a new direction for parks as it highlights the long-standing tension within the National Park Service between preservation and recreation. Long a center of conservation, the Bay Area was well positioned for such an innovative concept. Writing with insight and wit, Rothman reveals the many complex challenges that local leaders, politicians, and the NPS faced as they attempted to administer sites in this area. He tells how Representative Phillip Burton guided a comprehensive bill through Congress to establish the park and how he and others expanded the acreage of the GGNRA, redefined its mission to the public, forged an identity for interconnected parks, and struggled against formidable odds to obtain the San Francisco Presidio and convert it into a national park. Engagingly written, The New Urban Park offers a balanced examination of grassroots politics and its effect on municipal, state, and federal policy. While most national parks dominate the economies of their regions, GGNRA was from the start tied to the multifaceted needs of its public and political constituents, including neighborhood, ethnic, and labor interests, as well as the usual supporters from the conservation movement. As a national recreation area, GGNRA helped redefine that category in the public mind. By the dawn of the new century, it had already become one of the premier national park areas in terms of visitation. Now, as public lands become increasingly scarce, GGNRA may well represent the future of national parks in America. Rothman shows that this model works, and his book will be an invaluable resource for planning tomorrow's parks.      Upscale, 1996-06      101 Best Resumes to Sell Yourself Jay A.
