Foster,1989-08 Revisiting Institutionalism in Sociology Seth Abrutyn,2013-11-07 There may not be a concept so central to sociology yet so vaguely defined in its contemporary usages than institution In Revisiting Institutionalism in Sociology Abrutyn takes an in depth look at what institutions are by returning to some of the insights of classical theorists like Max Weber and Herbert Spencer the functionalisms of Talcott Parsons and S N Eisenstadt and the more recent evolutionary institutionalisms of Gerhard Lenski and Jonathan Turner Returning to the idea that various levels of social reality shape societies Abrutyn argues that institutions are macro level structural and cultural spheres of action exchange and communication They have emergent properties and dynamics that are not reducible to other levels of social reality Rather than fall back on old functionalist solutions Abrutyn offers an original and synthetic theory of institutions like religion or economy the process by which they become autonomous or distinct cultural spaces that shape the color and texture of action exchange and communication embedded within them and how they gain or lose autonomy by theorizing about institutional entrepreneurship Finally Abrutyn lays bare the inner workings of institutions including their ecology the way structure and culture shape lower levels of social reality and how they develop unique patterns of stratification and inequality founded on their ecology structure and culture Ultimately Abrutyn offers a refreshing take on macrosociology that brings functionalist conflict and cultural sociologies together while painting a new picture of how the seemingly invisible macro world influences the choices humans make and the goals we set
