Power Without Force The Political Capacity Of Nation States:

Power without Force Robert W. Jackman, 1993-09-15 Explores the ways states build political capacity discusses how states learn to resolve conflict politically rather than violently Power Without Force Robert W. Jackman, 1993 Staat, institutioneller Wandel und staatliche Leistungsfähigkeit in der Ukraine Nicole Gallina, 2006 Dieses Buch behandelt den Wandel der Rolle des Staates in der Ukraine seit ihrer Unabhängigkeit im Jahr 1991 Dabei geht es den folgenden Fragen nach Wie wirkt sich eine mangelnde Institutionalisierung staatlicher Strukturen auf die Leistungsfähigkeit des Staates und auf das Verhältnis des Staates zur Gesellschaft aus Sowohl die zentrale wie auch die regionale Ebene werden analysiert Ein Schwerpunkt liegt auf der Analyse der lokalen Machtstrukturen im Gebiet Lemberg Es wird gezeigt wie der Staat heute aussieht und wie politische und wirtschaftliche Eliten sich mit ihm auseinandersetzen Globalization, Security, and the Nation State Ersel Aydinli, James N. Rosenau, 2012-02-01 This volume studies the links among the concepts of globalization security and the authority of the nation state drawing attention to why and how these three concepts are interrelated and why they should be studied together Contributors explore the connections between security and global transformations and the corresponding or resulting changes in state structures that emerge Probing and extending existing paradigms the book offers three regional case studies the periphery states of the Middle East and North Africa the second world states of the Russian Federation and the core states of the European Union It concludes with three chapters that synthesize the above themes to identify corresponding changes in the patterns of international politics Economic Statecraft and Foreign Policy Jean-Marc F. Blanchard, Norrin M. Ripsman, 2013-07-18 This book develops a unified theory of economic statecraft to clarify when and how sanctions and incentives can be used effectively to secure meaningful policy concessions High profile applications of economic statecraft have yielded varying degrees of success The mixed record of economic incentives and economic sanctions in many cases raises important questions Under what conditions can states modify the behaviour of other states by offering them tangible economic rewards or by threatening to disrupt existing economic relations To what extent does the success of economic statecraft depend on the magnitude of economic penalties and rewards In order to answer these questions this book develops two analytic models one weighs the threats economic statecraft poses to the Target's Strategic Interests TSI while the other stateness assesses the degree to which the target state is insulated from domestic political pressures that senders attempt to generate or exploit Through a series of carefully crafted case studies including African apartheid and Japanese incentives to obtain the return of the Northern Territories the authors demonstrate how their model can yield important policy insights in regards to contemporary economic sanctions and incentives cases such as Iran and North Korea This book will be of much interest to students of statecraft sanctions diplomacy foreign policy and international security in general Comrades No More Renee De Nevers, 2003-06-20 In 1989 Soviet control over Eastern Europe ended when the communist regimes of the Warsaw Pact collapsed These momentous and largely bloodless events set the stage for the end of the Cold War and ushered in a new era in international politics Why did communism collapse relatively peacefully in Eastern Europe Why did these changes occur in 1989 after more than four decades of communist rule Why did this upheaval happen almost simultaneously in most of the Warsaw Pact In Comrades No More Renee de Nevers examines how internal and external factors interacted in the collapse of East European communism She argues that Gorbachev's reforms in the Soviet Union were necessary to start the process of political change in Eastern Europe but domestic factors in each communist state determined when and how each country abandoned communism A demonstration effect emerged as Hungary and Poland introduced reforms and showed that Moscow would not intervene to prevent political and economic changes De Nevers analyzes the process of change in Hungary Poland Bulgaria the German Democratic Republic Czechoslovakia and Romania She traces the pattern of reform in each country and shows how these patterns influenced their postcommunist political evolution

British-Irish Relations and Northern Ireland Brendan O'Duffy, 2007 This book examines the evolution of British Irish relations since 1921 and applies theories from political and social sciences including international relations to the Irish Northern Irish case The book includes the generation and analysis of primary data on violence and constitutional debate the analysis of primary sources such as state papers and elite interviews with British and Irish officials representatives of constitutional political parties in Northern Ireland and leaders and activists of republican and loyalist parties organisations Part 1 looks at how the attempt to regulate the Irish nationalist challenge to the British state through dominion status for the Irish Free State and partition impacted on governance in both jurisdictions The re opening of the Northern Irish Question in the late 1960s is then analysed to demonstrate the continued primacy of opposing claims to national self determination and their impact on subsidiary levels of conflict The final part covering the year 1985 to the present then demonstrates how the relative equalization of national status reflected in the bi national inter governmental relationship has been successful in regulating conflict by integrating vertically the bi nationality at state governmental and societal levels Finally implications of the British Irish approach are developed as contributions to the comparative theory and practice of ethno national conflict regulation

Growing Apart Peter Lewis,2007-04-17 Growing Apart is an important and distinguished contribution to the literature on the political economy of development Indonesia and Nigeria have long presented one of the most natural opportunities for comparative study Peter Lewis one of America s best scholars of Nigeria has produced the definitive treatment of their divergent development paths In the process he tells us much theoretically about when why and how political institutions shape economic growth Larry Diamond Senior Fellow Hoover Institution Growing Apart is a careful and sophisticated analysis of the political factors that have shaped the economic fortunes of Indonesia and Nigeria Both scholars and policymakers will benefit from this book s valuable insights Michael L Ross Associate Professor of Political Science Chair of International Development Studies UCLA Lewis presents an extraordinarily well documented comparative case study of two countries with a great deal in common and yet with remarkably different postcolonial histories His approach is a welcome departure from currently fashionable attempts to explain development using large multi country databases packed with often dubious measures of various aspects of governance Ross H McLeod Editor Bulletin of Indonesian Economic Studies This is a highly readable and important book Peter Lewis provides us with both a compelling institutionalist analysis of economic development performance and a very insightful comparative account of the political economies of two highly complex developing countries Nigeria and Indonesia His well informed account generates interesting findings by focusing on the ability of leaders in both countries to make credible commitments to the private sector and assemble pro growth coalitions This kind of cross regional political economy is often advocated in the profession but actually quite rare because it is so hard to do well Lewis s book will set the standard for a long time Nicolas van de Walle John S Knight Professor of International Studies Cornell University Peter M Lewis is Associate Professor and Director of the African Studies Program Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies
