TikTok

It's been a while since a new social app got big enough, to make non-users feel they're missing out from experience.

TikTok is an app for making and sharing short videos. The videos are tall, not square, like on Snapchat or Instagram's stories.

However, you navigate through videos by scrolling up and down.

Hashtags play a surprisingly large role on TikTok. Twitter hoped its users might congregate around hashtags in a never-ending series.

On TikTok, hashtags exist as a real, functional organizing principle: not for news, or even really anything trending anywhere else than TikTok.

TikTok can feel, for an American audience, like a most excellent hits compilation,

TikTok — known as Douyin in China, is one of the most popular of many short-video-sharing apps in that country. This landscape evolved both alongside and at arm's length from the American tech industry.

There are messaging features. Users can make use of them like any other social app.

The various aesthetic and functional similarities to Vine or Snapchat or Instagram belie a core difference: TikTok is more machine than man.
