Alternative Fuel News ,2003 #TaxmannAnalysis | Taxability of EV Charging Stations from a GST

Perspective Taxmann,2022-03-07 In its clarification relating to the requirement of licensing by the charging stations under the Electricity Act 2003 the Ministry of Power clarified that charging of an EV battery by a charging station involves a service requiring the consumption of electricity by the charging station If one adopts the above position under GST charging will attract GST at 18% However if treated as a sale of electricity the supply of electrical energy would be exempted from GST The solitary question that arises in the given case in the context of GST is whether the charging of a battery is an activity of supply of electricity as goods and thus exempted from GST or it is an overall charging service by the charging station which would be subject to GST at the rate of 18% Read Taxmann s Research and Advisory Team s Analysis to know more

Electric Charging Intended Functionality, Availability, and Equity Inclusion Brian J. Kozumplik,2023-01-19 As unprecedented growth in EV sales is expected and the number of public charging stations must be planned accordingly as charger up time and functionality i e availability is the number one factor for users once the charging system is installed Electric Vehicle Intended Functionality Availability and Equity Inclusion informs current customers and potential purchasers of functionality availability and equity inclusion issues with EV charging systems currently in production and in use across North America and Europe Note that if shortages of available chargers are recognized and exposed across the US this could then have a negative impact on future potential EV customers from making the leap from traditional ICE vehicles to EVs Click here to access the full SAE EDGETM Research Report portfolio <https://doi.org/10.4271/EPR2023001> The Energy Disruption Triangle David C.
