Massanari, 2024-10-29 How play and gaming culture have mainstreamed far right ideology through social media platforms From Gamergate to the ongoing Big Lie the far right has gone mainstream In Gaming Democracy Adrienne Massanari tracks the flames of toxicity found in the far right and alt right movements as they increasingly take up oxygen in American and global society In this pathbreaking contribution to the fields of internet studies game studies and gender studies Massanari argues that Silicon Valley's emphasis on meritocracy and free speech absolutism has driven this rightward slide These ideologies have been coded into social media spaces that implicitly silence marginalized communities and subject them to rampant abuse by groups that have learned to game the ecology of platforms algorithms and attention economies While populist movements are not new phenomena such as QAnon parental rights activism and COVID denialism are uniquely of the internet with supporters demonstrating both technical acumen and an ability to use memes and play as a way of both building community and fomenting dissent Massanari explores the ways that the far right uses memetic humor and geek masculinity as tools both to create a sense of community within these leaderless groups and to obfuscate their intentions Using the lens of play and game studies as well as the concept of metagaming Gaming Democracy is a novel contribution to our understanding of online platforms and far right political activism

Language and Mediated Masculinities Robert Lawson, 2023 From television shows to the manosphere and from alt right communities to fatherhood forums debates about masculinity have come to dominate the media landscape What does it mean to be a man in contemporary society How is masculinity constituted in different media spaces This growing cultural tension around masculinities has been discussed and analyzed both for general audiences and in burgeoning academic scholarship What has been typically overlooked however is the role that language plays in these mediated performances of masculinity In Language and Mediated Masculinities Robert Lawson draws on data from newspapers social media sites television programs and online forums to explore language and masculinities across a range of media contexts The book offers a critical evaluation of the intersection between language masculinities and identities in contemporary society and addresses three key questions How are masculinities constructed in both public and private spheres through linguistic and discursive strategies How does language about masculinity and men affect and recreate gender ideologies in different social political and historical contexts What might the language of men tell us about the state of contemporary gender relations in the twenty first century Lawson furthers our understanding of how language is implicated in re creating gender ideologies and how it shapes contemporary gender relations Against a cultural backdrop of rising neoliberalism ethnic nationalism online radicalization networked misogyny and fractious gender relations this book is an important contribution to charting how language is used to monitor evaluate and police masculinities in online and offline spaces

Melanson, 1989-02-17 Murkin was the code name chosen by the FBI for their investigation into the assassination of Dr Martin Luther King Jr in 1968 Today 20 years after the fatal shooting of the civil rights leader Philip H Melanson a renowned authority on American political assassinations unveils his own investigation into the murder Melanson has done an exhaustively thorough job on the still mysterious King assassination After following Melanson's meticulous pursuit of seemingly every lead in the case including interviews with the men whose names were used as aliases for alleged killer James Earl Ray there can be little doubt in the reader's mind that neither of the two official versions of what happened could have been the whole truth The first was the ever popular notion of the lone killer Ray The second propounded by a clearly inept congressional investigation a decade after the 1969 shooting was that an ill defined racist conspiracy was behind the assassination What seems unarguable is that Ray a petty criminal could not have killed King unaided There are too many improbabilities the source of his carefully chosen Canadian aliases the identity of the fat man who brought him a letter in Toronto during his escape the odd setup at the rooming house from which the shot was fired It is Melanson s thesis that there was high level intelligence involvement probably by the CIA which was violently alarmed by King s anti Vietnam stance Publisher s Weekly Murkin was the code name chosen by the FBI for the investigation into the assassination of Dr Martin Luther King Jr in 1968 Today twenty years after the fatal shooting of the civil rights leader Philip H Melanson a renowned authority on American political assassinations unveils his own investigation into the murder Through extensive interviews research and Freedom of Information Act requests Melanson analyzes the official investigations the evidence the performance of law enforcement officials the role of James Earl Ray and the questions of conspiracy Much of the data presented has never before been published Based on his detailed investigation Melanson offers a revisionist interpretation of the King case demonstrating that it remains unsolved Melanson argues persuasively that both the FBI s conclusion that Ray acted alone and the later 1978 House Select Committee on Assassinations decision that Ray was backed by a conspiracy of St Louis based white supremacists are not supported by the evidence Although Melanson concludes that Ray did not in fact act alone he contends that the official investigations were so flawed that the conspirators behind him are still unidentified His own conclusions regarding the probable source of the conspiracy offer a sobering indictment of the ways in which powerful interests left unchecked can wreak havoc on American democratic processes The Bulletin of the Board of Celtic Studies University of Wales.
