Journal of the American Institute of Planners ,1964      The Birth of City Planning in the United States, 1840-1917 Jon A. Peterson, 2003-09-10 Publisher Description      Black Excellence Black AF Carolyn GRAY, 2020-12-08 Black Excellence Black AF h3      Thinking Planning and Urbanism Beth Moore Milroy, 2010-01-01 When manufacturers and retailers vacate traditional locations they leave holes in a city s fabric that signal a shifting urban industrial terrain Who should mend these spaces and how should they approach the problem Using Toronto s Dundas Square and surrounding area as a case study Thinking Planning and Urbanism meticulously reconstructs the redevelopment process to explore the theories and practices used It traces the labyrinth of competing interests that can sideline and nearly overwhelm the public planning function In these circumstances Moore Milroy concludes practising planners are marooned by planning theories that begin from the premise that urban space is a social construction and only secondarily a function of technology and aesthetics This book makes plain the nature of the gap between the practice of planning and its theories a gap that inhibits planners from effectively championing creative actions to deal with postindustrial problems The findings drawn from this case will be widely recognized in redevelopment elsewhere and thus will be extremely useful to students and practitioners of urban design public administration municipal law and urban and regional planning      Routledge Handbook of Urban Planning in Africa Carlos Nunes Silva, 2019-10-28 This handbook contributes with new evidence and new insights to the on going debate on the de colonization of knowledge on urban planning in Africa African cities grew rapidly since the mid 20th century in part due to rising rural migration and rapid internal demographic growth that followed the independence in most African countries This rapid urbanization is commonly seen as a primary cause of the current urban management challenges with which African cities are confronted This importance given to rapid urbanization prevented the due consideration of other dimensions of the current urban problems challenges and changes in African cities The contributions to this handbook explore these other dimensions looking in particular to the nature and capacity of local self government and to the role of urban governance and urban planning in the poor urban conditions found in most African cities It deals with current and contemporary urban challenges and urban policy responses but also offers an historical overview of local governance and urban policies during the colonial period in the late 19th and 20th centuries offering ample evidence of common features and divergent features as well on a number of facets from intra urban racial segregation solutions to the relationships between the colonial power and the natives to the assimilation policy as practiced by the French and Portuguese and the Indirect Rule put in place by Britain in some or in part of its colonies Using innovative approaches to the challenges confronting the governance of African cities this handbook is an essential read for students and scholars of Urban Africa urban planning in Africa and African Development

Financial Planning in Australia Angelique Nadia Sweetman McInnes,2019-08-20 This book investigates the legitimacy of the current Australian Financial Services Licensee Authorised Representative AFSL AR licensing model as specified in the Commonwealth Corporations Act 2001 The book rectifies the deficiency in scholarly attention to this matter by developing a new conceptualised framework for the financial planning discipline It takes into account theories in agency legislation legitimacy and the independent individual regulatory regimes in other professions thereafter integrating this framework with the financial planning theory to examine the legitimacy or what was found to be the illegitimacy of licensing advisers via multiple third party conflicted commercially oriented licensees This book makes a very useful reference to understanding
