Plantation Homes Of Louisiana And The Natchez Area:

Transforming the South David King Gleason, 1982-09-01 From the Greek Revival grandeur of Belle Helene to the Moorish fantasy of Longwood to the simplicity of Rosella the plantation homes of Louisiana and the Natchez area powerfully recall the brief flowering of the unique civilization of the Old South In their noble fa ades sculptured interiors and scattered outbuildings can be seen the feudal splendor of the great cotton and sugar planters and the doomed glory of the Confederate war effort In these 120 resonant full color photographs David King Gleason fully captures the aura of Louisiana s plantation homes some beautiful in the morning light some shaded by trees and hanging moss some crumbling in decay and neglect Taking each house on its own terms Gleason s photographs present the buildings and their environs sharply and without deception Accompanying the photographs are captions that give a brief architectural evaluation of each house and provide notes on its construction history and present condition Gleason has organized his book as a journey along the waterways that were the lifeline of Louisiana s plantations their link to New Orleans and to the markets and factories of the North Beginning in the vicinity of New Orleans and the lower Mississippi Gleason presents such houses as Evergreen with its columns and twin circular staircases the exuberant San Francisco and Oak Alley set at the end of a spectacular avenue of 28 oak trees Continuing along the bayous that lead into the western part of the state he shows us the palatial Madewood constructed from seasoned timbers and 60 000 slave made bricks the meticulously restored Shadows on the Teche the ramshackle Darby House and Bubenzer which served as a Union army headquarters during the Civil War From Cane River country and north Louisiana the photographs portray Magnolia burned by Union troops and then rebuilt to its original specifications Melrose built in the early 1830s by a freed slave and Oakland the location for the Civil War movie The Horse Soldiers Moving overland towards Natchez the elaborate octagonal Longwood Rosemont the boyhood home of Jefferson Davis Oakley where John James Audubon was once engaged as a tutor and Rosedown with its elaborate gardens Continuing south of Baton Rouge along the River Road Gleason closes his tour with homes including Mount Hope built in the eighteenth century Nottoway the largest plantation home in the South completed on the eve of the Civil War Indian Camp a leprosarium for most of its existence and the pillared galleries of Belle Helene The plantation homes of Louisiana were highly personal expressions of pride and faith in the future Yet the building of these spectacular monuments was a brief phenomenon In the wake of the Civil War the South s economy was devoted to survival not luxury A tribute to the plantation home David King Gleason s photographs reveal the beauty grandeur and poignance of these monuments Old-House Journal ,1983-05 Old House Journal is the original magazine devoted to restoring and preserving old houses For more than 35 years our mission has been to help old house owners repair restore update and decorate buildings of every age and architectural style Each issue explores hands on restoration techniques practical architectural guidelines historical overviews and homeowner stories all in a trusted authoritative voice Bayou Built Peter Mires, 2010-11-01 Louisiana the Bayou State is famous for many things including savory cuisine great music and a resident population whose mantra is laissez les bons temps rouler let the good times roll The place is also noted for its historic architecture which ranges from simple forms such as the shotgun house or the Creole cottage to the celebrated plantation homes along the River Road Bayou Built The Legacy of Louisianas Historic Architecture examines the so called built environment from the perspectives of cultural geography and historic preservation It explores the various folk types and architectural styles that became part of the Louisiana landscape from the first French settlement in 1699 through the railroad and lumber boom of the 1890s Lost Plantations of the South Marc R. Matrana, 2014-07-18 The great majority of the South s plantation homes have been destroyed over time and many have long been forgotten In Lost Plantations of the South Marc R Matrana weaves together photographs diaries and letters architectural renderings and other rare documents to tell the story of sixty of these vanquished estates and the people who once called them home From plantations that were destroyed by natural disaster such as Alabama s Forks of Cypress to those that were intentionally demolished such as Seven Oaks in Louisiana and Mount Brilliant in Kentucky Matrana resurrects these lost mansions Including plantations throughout the South as well as border states Matrana carefully tracks the histories of each from the earliest days of construction to the often contentious struggles to preserve these irreplaceable historic treasures Lost Plantations of the South explores the root causes of demise and provides understanding and insight on how lessons learned in these sad losses can help prevent future preservation crises Capturing the voices of masters and mistresses alongside those of slaves and featuring more than one hundred elegant archival illustrations this book explores the powerful and complex histories of these cardinal homes across the South Architecture and Town Planning in Colonial North America James D. Kornwolf, Georgiana Wallis Kornwolf, 2002 Incorporating more than 3 000 illustrations Kornwolf s work conveys the full range of the colonial encounter with the continent s geography from the high forms of architecture through formal landscape design and town planning From these pages emerge the fine arts of environmental design an understanding of the political and economic events that helped to determine settlement in North America an appreciation of the various architectural and landscape forms that the settlers created and an awareness of the diversity of the continent s geography and its peoples Considering the humblest buildings along with the mansions of the wealthy and powerful public buildings forts and churches Kornwolf captures the true dynamism and diversity of colonial communities their rivalries and frictions their outlooks and attitudes as they extended their hold on the land Lost Plantation Marc R. Matrana, 2006-01-01 Along the fertile banks of the Mississippi River across from New Orleans planter Camille Zeringue transformed a mediocre colonial plantation into a thriving gem of antebellum sugar production complete with a columned mansion known as Seven Oaks Under the moss strewn oaks the privileged master nurtured his own family but enslaved many others Excelling at agriculture business an ambitious canal enterprise and local politics Zeringue ascended to the very pinnacle of southern society But his empire soon came crashing down After the ravages of the Civil War and a nasty battle with a railroad company the family eventually lost the great estate Seven Oaks ultimately ended up in the hands of distant railroad executives whose only desire was to rid themselves of this heap of history Lost Plantation The Rise and Fall of Seven Oaks tells both of Zeringue's climb to the top and of his legacy's eventual ruin Preservationists and community members abhorred the railroad's indifferent attitude and the question of the plantation mansion's fate fueled years of fiery political battles These hard fought confrontations ended in 1977 when the exasperated railroad executives sent bulldozers through the decaying house By analyzing one failed effort Lost Plantation provides insight into the complex workings of American historical preservation efforts as a whole while illustrating how southerners deal with their multifaceted past The rise and fall of Seven Oaks is much more than just a local tragedy it is a glaring example of how any community can be robbed of its history Now as parishes around New Orleans recognize the great aesthetic and monetary value of restoring plantation homes and attracting tourism Jefferson Parish mourns a manor lost Marc R Matrana Westwego Louisiana is a local historian and preservationist See the author's site The Homes of the Planters Jacqueline P.
