Plantation Slavery in Barbados Jerome S. Handler, Frederick W. Lange, Robert V. Riordan, 1978 Here is the first detailed investigation of plantation slave life in Barbados from earliest times until 1838 The authors have visited slave village sites and their intensive excavation of a slave cemetery has yielded a wealth of material pertaining to mortuary practices and other dimensions of social and material life Handler and Lange have also examined and extensively integrated the written records to amplify and cross check their findings Based on the methodologies of archaeology history and ethnography Plantation Slavery in Barbados explores new ways to reconstruct the culture of a social group that left few historical records As a description of the organization and development of the plantation system in Barbados it is a model work in the burgeoning fields of slavery studies historical anthropology and Caribbean history The Archaeology of Slavery and Plantation Life Theresa A Singleton, 2016-09-16 This volume represented a compilation of interdisciplinary research being done throughout the American South and the Caribbean by historians archaeologists architects anthropologists and other scholars on the topic of slavery and plantations It synthesizes materials known through the 1980s and reports on key sites of excavation and survey in the Carolinas Barbados Louisiana and other locations Contributors include many of the leading figures in historical archaeology Archaeologies of Slavery and Freedom in the Caribbean Lynsey A. Bates, John M. Chenoweth, James A. Delle, 2018-09-12 While the patterns of habitation and development are similar throughout the Caribbean there was also a great deal of diversity The authors in this volume use innovative techniques and perspectives to reveal the stories of places and times where the usual rules did not always apply Historical Archaeology of Plantations at Kings Bay, Camden County, Georgia, 1987 Archaeologists have defined the Kings Bay Locality as the area between the Crooked River and the St Marys River and east of Dark Entry Swamp including the tidal marsh and estuaries west of Cumberland Island Most of this area now lies within the Naval Submarine Base Kings Bay To assist in avoiding and minimizing damage to significant sites by Base construction archaeologists from the University of Florida conducted a field survey of the Base identifying and mapping prehistoric and historic sites Four plantations were investigated three of these are presented here the Cherry Point Plantation Harmony Hall Plantation and Kings Bay Plantation The historical archaeology of these plantations has provided a wealth of information about not only the planters and their families but also about the slaves who made the plantations prosper Abstract page iii Island Lives Paul Farnsworth, 2001-08-20 This comprehensive study of the historical archaeology of the Caribbean provides sociopolitical context for the ongoing development of national identities points to the future by suggesting different trajectories that historical archaeology and its practitioners may take in the Caribbean arena and elucidates the problems and issues faced worldwide by researchers working in colonial and post colonial societies The Peoples of the Caribbean Nicholas J. Saunders, 2005-12-16 A true first this encyclopedia is the only comprehensive guide ever published on the archaeology and traditional culture of the Caribbean In The Peoples of the Caribbean archaeologist Nicholas J Saunders assembles for the first time a comprehensive sourcebook on the archaeology folklore and mythology of the entire region charting a story 7 000 years in the making Drawing on decades of study in the Caribbean and South America Saunders explores landmark archaeological sites such as Caguana in Puerto Rico with its ceremonial architecture and ballcourts and plantation sites such as Jamaica s Drax Hall The author dives into the underwater archaeology of Spanish treasure galleons and untangles stories of cannibalism zombies and hallucinogenic snuffing rituals He examines the impact of key Europeans such as Christopher Columbus and introduces readers to the native people such as the Arawak who welcomed them Bringing the story up to date Saunders chronicles the struggle of the indigenous people from the Caribs of Dominica to the Ta no of the Dominican Republic trying to reclaim and revitalize their historical cultural identity

Higman,1999 The principal objective of this volume is to provide a survey of the development of historical understanding in the region It also seeks to point to the future setting out a new agenda and reflecting on the potential of new methods and interpretations

The African Exchange Kenneth F. Kiple,1987 David Eltis has observed that in terms of immigration America was an extension of Africa rather than Europe until late in the 19th century The unwilling African immigrants were not spread evenly across the Americas the overwhelming majority arrived in tropical and subtropical plantation America with the result that the disease and nutritional environments of this region also became extensions of Africa While the implications of disease ecology for world history have been examined and the details of the Colombian exchange of plants and pathogens between Europe and the Americas studied we have no comparable study of the African exchange The essays in this volume form the cutting edge of biohistorical research that promises to rewrite the story of humankind s past in significant ways
