

The background of the slide is a reproduction of Plato's Academy by Raphael. It depicts a group of ancient Greek philosophers in a grand, vaulted hall. Plato, an older man with a white beard in a red robe, points his right index finger towards the sky. Aristotle, a younger man in a blue robe, holds a book and gestures with his right hand palm-down towards the earth. Other philosophers are engaged in various activities: some are in discussion, some are writing, and one in the foreground is sleeping. The architecture features high arches and a coffered ceiling.

Platos Republic A Study:

Plato's Republic Stanley Rosen, 2008-01-01 In this book a distinguished philosopher offers a comprehensive interpretation of Plato's most controversial dialogue Treating the Republic as a unity and focusing on the dramatic form as the presentation of the argument Stanley Rosen challenges earlier analyses of the Republic including the ironic reading of Leo Strauss and his disciples and argues that the key to understanding the dialogue is to grasp the author's intention in composing it in particular whether Plato believed that the city constructed in the Republic is possible and desirable Rosen demonstrates that the fundamental principles underlying the just city are theoretically attractive but that the attempt to enact them in practice leads to conceptual incoherence and political disaster The Republic says Rosen is a vivid illustration of the irreconcilability of philosophy and political practice A Guide to the Study of Plato's Republic Noah Edward Fehl, 1962
