Planning Processes An Introduction For Geographers:

Planning Processes John Herington, 1989-09-28 An introduction to the planning of towns cities and regions in Britain the book provides an explanation as to how the public planning system operates With special reference to government attitudes and policies the author outlines the geographical social and economic consequences of planning He provides a systematic coverage of all these aspects using case studies where necessary Emphasis is placed on clarifying the link between planning processes in the city and countryside and the changes that occur as a result

Retail Geography Shuguang Wang, Paul Du, 2020-05-26 The retail sector is an integral part of a national economy From the political economy perspective all consumer goods have surplus values locked up in them the surplus values are not realized until the consumer goods are purchased by consumers through various distribution channels As such retailing is the essential link between production and consumption The success of a retail business depends on two general factors the location of the retail outlet and management of the business Both factors are equally important If the business is located in the wrong place with the wrong customer base it will not generate expected sales Similarly if the business is poorly managed and operated it will not perform well even if the location is right Influenced by both traditional and new location theories Retail Geography is conceptualized and organized using the retail planning process as the framework The technical and methodological chapters help guide the reader with detailed descriptions of the techniques and are supported with practical examples to reflect the latest software development Retail Geography provides a state of the art summary and will act as a core textbook for undergraduate and graduate students of economic geography interested in specializing in retail and business geography The practical examples also make it a valuable handbook for practitioners in the field as well as students of retail management and commercial real estate management

Big Data Applications in Geography and Planning Mark Birkin, Graham Clarke, Jonathan Corcoran, Robert Stimson, 2021-05-28 This unique book demonstrates the utility of big data approaches in human geography and planning Offering a carefully curated selection of case studies it reveals how researchers are accessing big data what this data looks like and how such data can offer new and important insights and knowledge

The Routledge Handbook of Methodologies in Human Geography Sarah A. Lovell, Stephanie E. Coen, Mark W. Rosenberg, 2022-10-18 The Routledge Handbook of Methodologies in Human Geography is the defining reference for academics and postgraduate students seeking an advanced understanding of the debates methodological developments and methods transforming research in human geography Divided into three sections Part I reviews how the methods of contemporary human geography reflect the changing intellectual history of human geography and events both within human geography and society in general In Part II authors critically appraise key methodological and theoretical challenges and opportunities that are shaping contemporary research in various parts of human geography. Contemporary directions within the discipline are elaborated on by established and emerging researchers who are leading ontological debates and the adoption of innovative methods in geographic research. In Part III authors explore cross cutting methodological challenges and prompt questions about the values and goals underpinning geographical research work such as Who are we engaging in our research? Who is our research for? What are our relationships with communities? Contributors emphasize examples from their research and the research of others to reflect the fluid emotional and pragmatic realities of research. This handbook captures key methodological developments and disciplinary influences emerging from the various sub disciplines of human geography. Mathematics for Geographers and Planners Alan Geoffrey Wilson, M.
