Plant Growth Substances 197:

Plant Growth Substances Richard N. Arteca, 1996 In a convenient single source reference this book examines plant growth substances and their relationship to a wide range of physiological processes ranging from seed germination through the death of the plant. It offers a clear illustration of the pragmatic uses of plant substances in agriculture and demonstrates how basic laboratory research has translated into increased production and profit for the grower. This work begins by building a solid foundation in the subject which contains historical aspects and fundamental concepts and provides a methodology for extraction, purification and quantification of plant growth substances. This forms the basis for understanding the ensuing chapters that explore the many processes involving plant growth substances including seed germination, seedling growth, rooting, dormancy, juvenility, maturity, senescence, flowering, abscission, fruit set, fruit growth, fruit development, premature drop, ripening, promotion of fruit drop, tuberization, photosynthesis, weed control. Providing a detailed examination of plant growth substances and their relationships to specific physiological plant processes, Plant Growth Substances gives students, researchers and professionals a much needed reference.

Chemistry of Plant Hormones Nobutaka Takahashi, 2018-10-08 The chemistry of the five principal plant hormone groups is discussed in detail in this volume. Contributing authors review history and occurrence of each hormone group, methods of isolation and detection, biosynthesis and metabolism and structural determination. Through these analyses the authors clarify the role of endogenous plant growth regulators in the life cycle of higher plants. The text is supplemented with over 350 figures and structures of various plant hormones.

Plant Growth Substances 1970 D. J. Carr, 1972 At the 6th International Conference on Plant Growth Substances held in Carleton University, Ottawa, in 1968, it was decided that the 7th should be held in Czechoslovakia following an invitation by Dr. Kutacek. Historical events intervened and in 1969 another venue was sought. An offer from the Academy of Science in Canberra was accepted by the steering committee. This left rather less time than is desirable to organize an international meeting of this nature and it was with surprise and great relief that the Organizing Committee in Canberra welcomed the arrival of 183 delegates including a relatively large overseas contingent to the meeting in December 1970. The aim of these Conferences is of course to provide a forum for discussion of new work.

and recent trends both in the lecture sessions and in conversation Although many of those who initiated these meetings e g Skoog Went Blackman Bennet Clark were absent from the Canberra conference some have retired it was good to see present so many of the new generation of research workers in this field
