Royal Australian Navy:

The Royal Australian Navy in World War II David Stevens, 2005 The definitive account of the part the Royal Australian Navy played in the Second World War     The Royal Australian Navy David Stevens, 2001     No Pleasure Cruise T. R. Frame, 2004-07 In 1901 Australia's fledgling Federal Government assumed the responsibility for the new nation's defence Their first task was to take the aged and obsolete remnants of the colonies navies and create a national navy to defend our island's coastal waters and overseas trade routes For the first 40 years the Royal Australian Navy RAN was designed to serve alongside the Royal Navy and resembled it in everything but scale After the Second World War the RAN developed along US lines but despite these overseas ties the RAN has developed its own proud character and tradition and has entered the twenty first century as a confident and independent force in its own right In No Pleasure Cruise Australia's best known naval historian Dr Tom Frame charts the RAN's emergence as one of the world's strongest and most respected navies and its evolving relationship with the Australian public press and parliament     Royal Australian Navy, 1939-1942 George Hermon Gill, 1957     The Navy and the Nation David Stevens, John Reeve, 2005-01-01 Australia has often been described as a nation shaped by war From an early age every Australian is taught the significance of Gallipoli and the Anzac legend This however is but one dimension of the military's impact on our nation's coming of age Australia after all is an island It was the Navy which explored and founded European Australia and it is the Navy which has ever since been critical to our national security With its ancestry in the Royal Navy and the former colony based navies the Australian Navy was established in 1901 Since that time it has helped Australia enter the international community as a modern self reliant nation and has been indispensable in protecting Australia's sovereignty and national interests Despite the Navy being one of Australia's oldest and most important institutions the links between nation building and the Navy have never before received detailed study Bringing together scholars from Australia and overseas The Navy and the Nation examines the extent of the Navy's contribution to our national development It shows too how the Navy has played a vital role in defining our independent national identity A former naval officer David Stevens is a graduate of the University of New South Wales and the Australian National University and is currently Director of Strategic and Historical Studies within the Sea Power Centre Australia He has written and edited several books on maritime strategy and naval history John Reeve is Senior Lecturer and Osborne Fellow in Naval History at the University of New South Wales at the Australian Defence Force Academy He has written extensively on early modern and contemporary diplomatic and strategic issues     Royal Australian Navy, 1987     Navy and the Nation Tim Barrett, 2017-01-23 The Royal Australian Navy is at a watershed moment in its history Major reinvestment following the 2016 Defence White Paper will see it re equipped with offshore patrol boats a new class of frigate a modern and expanded submarine force and an air warfare destroyer How does the Navy best prepare for the future Vice Admiral Tim Barrett forcefully argues the answer is by reimagining the way the Navy views itself especially its domestic and international relationships In The Navy and the Nation Vice Admiral Barrett outlines the extensive opportunities for the service and Australia if the Navy is embraced as a national enterprise Of Nautilus and Eagles Peter C. Firkins,1983

Sir William Rooke Creswell and the Foundation of the Australian Navy Sheila Dwyer,2014-03-26 The six Australian colonies united on 1st January 1901 to become the Commonwealth of Australia One of the reasons given for this federation was that the Commonwealth could provide a common defence William Rooke Creswell argued that as an island continent Australia could not defend itself without a navy He saw no point in having a 70 000 strong army if only one enemy battleship could destroy port cities and disrupt maritime trade and sea communications Creswell was not alone in his campaign to establish a navy for Australia but he was the one constant advocate throughout the years from his first proposals on a navy for Australia in 1886 to when the first ships of the Australian Fleet sailed into Sydney Harbour in October 1913 The Royal Australian Navy George Odgers,1982 Out of Sight, Out of Mind John R. Carroll,2013 Out of Sight Out of Mind identifies and dispels various myths which have developed around the importance of sea transport and logistical support and argues for a new appreciation of the service of the 13 000 members of the RAN who participated in this vitally important task Many of the illustrations were taken by serving military personnel which gives them an immediacy and poignancy lacking in official photographs The Royal Australian Navy, 1914-1918 Arthur Wilberforce Jose,1987 A New Aircraft Carrier for the Royal Australian Navy? Gary Brown,Derek Woolner,1982 Royal Australian Navy News. Vol. 5. No. 12, Etc. 13 July 1962, Etc Australia. Royal Australian Navy,1962 The Genesis of the Royal Australian Navy G. L. Macandie,1949 The ABC of Royal Australian Navy Corvettes Libby Pearce,Able Seaman,2019-08-20 The tradition of naming ships of the Royal Australian Navy's fleet after our nation's cities and towns began when the Royal Australian Navy Fleet Unit was created in the years immediately preceding World War I When the Australian Fleet Unit first arrived in Sydney on 4 October 1913 it was led into Port Jackson by the flagship HMAS Australia I followed closely by two brand new cruisers each carrying the name of Australia's largest cities Melbourne and Sydney Later more cruisers were ordered and over time the names of other capital cities were added including Adelaide Brisbane Canberra Perth and Hobart The citizens of those major cities took much pride in having state of the art Australian warships so named particularly as most knew someone serving in them It followed that the exploits and adventures of those men and ships were reported with great enthusiasm and pride by hometown newspapers Soon after the outbreak of World War II an order was placed for sixty minesweepers of simple design to be constructed in Australian shipyards as part of the Commonwealth Government's wartime shipbuilding programme Rapidly produced these vessels were capable of patrol work shore bombardment minesweeping escort and survey duties and troop transport They became popularly known as corvettes and with so many ships commissioning the Navy turned its attention to regional towns and communities in search of worthy names The lead ship of the class was named HMAS Bathurst after the town in the central tablelands of NSW and those that followed each took their names from other regional towns dotted around the country This linkage between the Navy and the Nation forged strong and enduring links between the RAN and the communities it drew upon to crew its fighting ships at a time when Australia never felt more threatened Altogether 56 Bathurst class corvettes saw active service in the RAN during World War II performing valuable work in far flung theatres in both hemispheres Four corvettes were built for the Royal Indian Navy Three corvettes were lost during the war and a fourth in 1947 while clearing mines from the Great Barrier Reef The Royal Australian Navy and MacArthur Ian Pfennigwerth,2009 By 1945 MacArthur s forces had advanced from Papua to the Philippines and to Borneo The majority of the troops supplies and equipment for this campaign were transported by sea and MacArthur s success was based on 22 amphibious assaults By 1945 MacArthur s forces had advanced from Papua to the Philippines and to Borneo The majority of the troops supplies and equipment for this campaign were transported by sea and MacArthur s success was based on 22 amphibious assaults Soldiers and Marines did the ground fighting and MacArthur s air forces eventually ruled the skies but it was the ships of the United States and Australian navies that delivered them to the battlefronts and supported them This book reveals much of the RAN s war little reported upon Tiny by comparison with the USN the RAN more than compensated by commanding all the hydrographic surveying for MacArthur s shipping and amphibious assaults and shouldered the major responsibility for protecting MacArthur s convoys The RAN bombarded enemy positions drove off Japanese reinforcements and harassed enemy coastal shipping RAN Coast Watchers collected crucial intelligence Beach Commandos directed men and material across assault beaches often delivered by RAN landing ships RAN ships shuttled troops and equipment rescued downed airmen and swept enemy mines Australian sailors fought and sometimes died in battles against kamikaze aircraft in the Philippines and in routing the Japanese Fleet at Surigao Wherever MacArthur s troops fought the RAN was there When the fighting stopped the RAN facilitated the surrender of Japanese forces and finally brought our troops home Royal Australian Navy 1939-1942 , The Royal Australian Navy Australia.
