Bloodline Iain Gordon, 2020-01-24 A guide to the history of each of the British Army's regular formations from their origins to their development over time Using easy to follow family tree type tables Bloodline shows the origins and development of every regular formation in the British Army including the latest amalgamations and changes brought about within the Future Army Structure The charts illustrate clearly how in some cases up to twenty five original regiments of the line have over the centuries by successive disbandments and amalgamations been reduced to a single regiment in today's superb but shamefully overstretched army The Battle Honours of each post Cardwell constituent are recorded separately so the progress of each of the original regiments and the theatres in which it was involved may be examined individually The pedigrees and Honours of disbanded units are also recorded so their contribution will not be lost to posterity A chronological summary of Battle honours provides an overview of the British Army's campaigns over the past 300 years and notes on the origins of each formation place its original purpose within the political and historical perspective of the time A robust editorial platform throughout applauds the Army as the Nation's most dependable and trustworthy institution and castigates government neglect and public indifference for the unnecessary blood and sacrifices which successive generations of soldiers have had to make as a result of inadequate investment and preparation

German troops of Reserve Infantry Regiments RIR 248 and 246 and Unter Elssisches Infanterie Regiment Nr 132 were also blanketed in the thick damp mist It swirled round their trenches deadening sound and reinforcing the illusion that all was secure Fifty minutes later the planned British artillery bombardment began By the end of the day more than 4 000 men would be casualties on a field approximately half a mile square At the close of the 2nd Battles of Ypres the German trenches between the Menin Road and the Ypres Roulers railway formed a salient From Bellewaarde ridge situated on the eastern side of the lake they were able to overlook the greater part of the ground east of Ypres In early June it was decided to attack the salient and take possession of Bellewaarde ridge The attack was to be carried out by the 9th Brigade of the 3rd Division with 7th Brigade in support The book is a tribute to those who fought and died at Bellewaarde on the 16th June 1915 and author royalties will be donated to a fund to help raise money for a memorial
