Rubens and Rembrandt in Their Century, 1979 Rubens and Rembrandt in Their Century Pierpont Morgan Library, Felice Stampfle, 1979 Art Market and Connoisseurship Anna Tummers, Koenraad Jonckheere, 2008 The question of whether seventeenth century painters such as Rembrandt and Rubens were exclusively responsible for the paintings later sold under their names has caused many a heated debate Despite the rise of scholarship on the history of the art market much is still unknown about the ways in which paintings were produced assessed priced and marketed during this period which leads to several provocative questions did contemporary connoisseurs expect masters such as Rembrandt to paint works entirely by their own hand Who was credited with the ability to assess paintings as genuine The contributors to this engaging collection Eric Jan Sluijter Hans Van Miegroet and Neil De Marchi among them trace these issues through the booming art market of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries arriving at fascinating and occasionally unexpected conclusions Rubens and Rembrandt in Their Century Pierpont Morgan Library, Felice Stampfle, 1979 Rubens and Rembrandt in Their Century Felice Stampfle, 1979 Art Market and Connoisseurship Anna Tummers, Koenraad Jonckheere, 2025-10-01 The question whether or not seventeenth century painters such as Rembrandt and Rubens created the paintings which were later sold under their names has caused many a heated debate Much is still unknown about the ways in which paintings were produced assessed priced and marketed For example did contemporary connoisseurs expect masters such as Rembrandt to paint their works entirely by their own hand Who was credited with the ability to assess paintings How did a painting's price relate to its quality And how did connoisseurship change as the art market became increasingly complex The contributors to this essential volume trace the evolution of connoisseurship in the booming art market of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries Among them are the renowned Golden Age scholars Eric Jan Sluijter Hans Van Miegroet and Neil De Marchi It is not to be missed by anyone with an interest in the Old Masters and the early modern art market Rubens and Rembrandt in Their Century, 1979 Rubens and Rembrandt in Their Century Pierpont Morgan Library (N.Y.), Felice Stampfle, 1979 Rembrandt, oder nicht?, 2000 Metzler Kunsthistoriker Lexikon Peter Betthausen, Peter H. Claartje Rasterhoff, Sandra van Ginhoven, 2020-03-16 This Special Issue of Arts investigates the use of digital methods in the study of art markets and their histories As historical and contemporary data is rapidly becoming more available and digital technologies are becoming integral to research in the humanities and social sciences we sought to bring together contributions that reflect on the different strategies that art market scholars employ to navigate and negotiate digital techniques and resources The essays in this issue cover a wide range of topics and research questions Taken together the essays offer a reflection on what takes to research art markets which includes addressing difficult topics such as the nature of the research questions and the data available to us and the conceptual aspects of art markets in order to define and operationalize variables and to interpret visual and statistical patterns for scholarship In our view this discussion is enriched when also taking into account how to use shared or interoperable ontologies and vocabularies to define concepts and relationships that facilitate the use and exchange of linked open data for cultural heritage and historical research The
