POINT BLANK

Margrit Brehm, AXEL HEIL

Point Blank:

Point Blank Eric G. Wilson, 2023-09-07 John Boorman's Point Blank 1967 has long been recognised as one of the seminal films of the sixties with its revisionary mix of genres including neo noir New Wave and spaghetti western. Its lasting influence can be traced throughout the decades in films like Mean Streets 1973 Reservoir Dogs 1992 Heat 1995 The Limey 1999 and Memento 2000. Eric Wilson's compelling study of the film examines its significance to New Hollywood cinema. He argues that Boorman revises traditional Hollywood crime films by probing a second connotation of point blank. On the one hand it is a neo noir that aptly depicts close range violence but it also points toward blankness a nothingness that is the consequence of corporate America unchecked where humans are reduced to commodities and stripped of agency and playfulness. He goes on to reimagine the film's experimental style as a representation of and possible remedy for trauma. Examining Boorman's formal innovations including his favouring of gesture over language and blurring of boundaries between dream and reality he also positions the film as a grimly comical exploration of toxic masculinity and gender fluidity. Wilson's close reading of Point Blank reveals it to be a film that innovatively inflects its own generation and speaks powerfully to our own arguing that it is this amplitude which encompasses the many major films it has influenced that qualifies the film as a classic. POINT
