Polemics For A New Cinema:

Polemics for a New Cinema Albie Thoms, 1978 The State and New Cinema in Contemporary India Sudha Tiwari, 2023-09-11 This book examines the relationship between the newly independent Indian state and its New Cinema movement. It looks at state formative practices articulating themselves as cultural policy. It presents an institutional history of the Film Finance Corporation (FFC), later the National Film Development Corporation (NFDC), and their patronage of the New Cinema in India from the 1960s to the 1990s, bringing into focus an extraordinary but neglected cultural moment in Indian film history and in the history of contemporary India. The chapters not only document the artistic pursuit of cinema but also the emergence of a larger field where the market, political inclinations of the Indian state, and the more complex determinants of culture intersect. How the New Cinema movement faced external challenges from the industrial lobby and politicians, as well as experienced deep rifts from within. It also shows how the Emergency, the Janata Party regime, economic liberalization, and the opening of airwaves all left their impact on the New Cinema. The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of film studies, politics, and public policy, especially cultural policy, media, and culture studies, and South Asian studies.

Polemic Jane Gallop, 2012-11-12 These new essays by leading scholars examine some famous and less well-known instances of polemical encounters. The essays are enhanced by an interview with Gayatri Spivak, specially conducted by Jane Gallop for this volume. Historically rigorous, theoretically astute, and sometimes wickedly funny, Polemic makes criticism a critical issue.

Global Film Color Sarah Street, Joshua Yumibe, 2024 Global Film Color: The Monopack Revolution at Midcentury explores color filmmaking around the world during the mid-century era when color came to dominate global film production. As Eastmancolor, Agfacolor, Fujicolor, and other film stocks became broadly available and affordable, national film industries increasingly converted to color, transforming the look and feel of global cinema.

Australian Film Brian Reis, 1997 Contains entries, many with descriptive annotations, on books, book chapters, periodical articles, government reports, academic theses, films, videos, and audio recordings published in Australia and elsewhere from 1988 to the early and mid-1990s. Categories include film archives and libraries, production, super 8mm film, government and film history, and criticism, ethnographic film, biographies, and film criticism and reviews. perceptions no matter how irrational or archaic continue to underlie the political and economic decisions Australians make about the Asia Pacific region No one has ever looked so exhaustively at Australian images of Asia Alison Broinowski a longtime diplomat and writer about Asian issues identifies these images where they come from and how they have changed or not changed She investigates artists who took an interest in Asia and why they did so They include visual artists novelists film makers composers architects poets potters playwrights photographers puppeteers and choreographers Japan receives the greatest attention as a continuing source of both modernity and tradition Beginning with early Aboriginal contact with Indonesians The Yellow Lady shows how chances for harmonious co existence with the neighbourhood were lost in the colonial period Successive wars set back this process of adaptation In the final section as increasing numbers of Asians migrate to Australia and Asian countries become economically dominant Australian images of Asia undergo rapid change Alison Broinowski argues that until Asia is accepted as part of the mainstream of Australian life Australians will remain uncertain about their status and that if Australia s international image is to change it must begin by acknowledging the reality of Asia

Yugoslav Black Wave Greg Cuir, 2025-10-01 Yugoslav Black Wave was originally published in 2011 by Film Center Serbia At that time it was the first comprehensive study of the Black Wave to appear in English and is still one of the rare monographs anywhere dedicated to the subject The Yugoslav Black Wave represented a new generation in Socialist Yugoslav cinema in the 1960s and early 1970s Their films were characterized by a critical spirit and an unconventional approach to form in relation to classical Yugoslav cinema which generally served to galvanize the war torn young nation and to advance the Communist party agenda The author ultimately argues that this phenomenon is maybe the last new wave in postwar European cinema that is still in need of sustained critical attention and wider acknowledgement This book is a revised and expanded second edition that makes a modest endeavor towards that goal

Subversion Duncan Reekie, 2007 Presents a history of underground cinema discovering the cultural roots found in nineteenth century Paris and medieval London but situates it as a radical and popular subculture separate from mainstream cinema and avant garde film
