Policing For Prevention Reducing Crime Public Intoxication And Injury:

Policing and Security in Practice T. Prenzler, 2012-04-05 This volume addresses critical questions about how to achieve the best outcomes from police and security providers by reviewing and critiquing the scientific literature and identifying best practice guidelines Chapters cover a range of topical issues including legitimacy organised crime public protests and intelligence and investigations Policing for Prevention Ross Homel, 1997-01-01 Although most authors of this volume are Australian the themes are universal the regulation and control of public drinking policing alcohol related violence drug consumption and public disorder accident and injury prevention the management of police resources and problem oriented policing The Australian case studies are augmented by contributions from Sweden on public order and the United States on auto theft sharpening the focus on how police and regulatory resources can be directed most effectively to the prevention of violence accidents disorder and property crime International Handbook of Penology and Criminal Justice Shlomo Giora Shoham, Ori Beck, Martin Kett, 2007-10-08 At the outset of the twenty first century more than 9 million people are held in custody in over 200 countries around the world from the essay Prisons and Jails by Ron King The first comparative study of this increasingly integral social subject International Handbook of Penology and Criminal Justice provides a comprehensive and balanced review Handbook of Quantitative Criminology Alex R. Piquero, David Weisburd, 2009-12-16 Quantitative criminology has certainly come a long way since I was first introduced to a largely qualitative criminology some 40 years ago when I was recruited to lead a task force on science and technology for the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice At that time criminology was a very limited activity depending almost exclusively on the Uniform Crime Reports UCR initiated by the FBI in 1929 for measurement of crime based on victim reports to the police and on police arrests A typical mode of analysis was simple bivariate correlation Marvin Wolfgang and colleagues were making an important advance by tracking longitudinal data on arrests in Philadelphia an innovation that was widely appreciated And the field was very small I remember attending my first meeting of the American Society of Criminology in about 1968 in an anteroom at New York University there were about 25-30 people in attendance mostly sociologists with a few lawyers thrown in That Society today has over 3 000 members mostly now drawn from criminology which has established its own clear identity but augmented by a wide variety of disciplines that include statisticians economists demographers and even a few engineers This Handbook provides a remarkable testimony to the growth of that field Following the maxim that if you can't measure it you can't understand it we have seen the early dissatisfaction with the UCR replaced by a wide variety of new approaches to measuring crime victimization and offending Learning About Drinking Eleni Houghton, Anne M. Roche, 2013-05-13 This book is based on the premise that drinking behaviors are primarily learned The contributors to the book explore the complex array of individual and social factors that impact the development of drinking patterns They traverse family and culture influences and the role played by schools government and the beverage alcohol industry Learning About Drinking offers a rigorous and scholarly examination of drinking behavior brought to life with illustrative cases drawn from around the world Social policymakers historians anthropologists public health specialists as well as mental health professionals will find this book of value Learning About Drinking offers a refreshing evidence based look at a process that has too often been taken for granted From Science to Action? 100 Years Later - Alcohol

Policies Revisited Richard Müller,Harald Klingemann,2004-03-31 Relevant to both scientists and policy makers this authoritative text provides alcohol policy from different perspectives covering both science research treatment and prevention practice and links these areas Handbook of Gun Violence Nicholas D Thomson,2024-10-24 Handbook of Gun Violence provides a comprehensive review of the complex world of gun violence From its roots in epidemiology and public health to the intricacies of biopsychosocial risk factors to criminological and forensic considerations this book offers an interdisciplinary exploration of a pressing societal issue Sections cover everything from the history of firearm injury prevention research to the social political and policy implications surrounding gun violence This book focuses on evidence based strategies and emerging research areas and equips readers with the knowledge needed to navigate the complexities of gun violence prevention intervention research and policy With contributions from leading experts across various fields including scientists from the CDC and NIH this handbook provides invaluable insights into understanding preventing and addressing gun violence Provides an extensive review of gun violence statistics and trends Examines the biopsychosocial risk and protective factors for violence in youth and adults Reviews evidence based intervention and prevention programs for gun violence Assesses global policies for gun violence prevention and discusses the impact of funding and research on violence prevention The Promise of Crime Prevention Frances Gant,Peter N. Grabosky,2000 This second series of case studies on crime prevention in practice describes Australian initiatives that can be regarded as examples of international best practice It also illustrates a variety of overseas programs Crime prevention programs have been grouped together with regards to situational crime prevention developmental crime prevention community crime prevention and prevention measures by criminal justice agencies Preventing Harmful Substance Use Tim Stockwell,2005 The prevention of harm from drug use both legal and illegal is a major concern to government departments and clinicians throughout the world Recently much new research has been conducted regarding global levels and patterns of drug related harm on common risk factors with other social problems e g mental health crime and on the effectiveness of wide range of intervention strategies There is a need to summarise and synthesise this new knowledge for use in a range of disciplines Preventing Harmful Substance Use offers the most comprehensive and up to date advice available on the prevention of drug and alcohol abuse Contributors provide authoritative science based reviews of knowledge on their areas of expertise and make clear recommendations for the future of prevention policy and practice A final section draws the work together and offers a framework for an integrated science of prevention Policing Drug Hot-spots Jessica Jacobson,1999 International Handbook of Alcohol Dependence and

Problems Nick Heather, Timothy J. Peters, Tim Stockwell, 2001-05-18 Focusing on alcohol dependence and alcohol related problems in general as well as their causes treatment and prevention this handbook also addresses the basic mechanisms of alcohol and its effects on human physiology and behaviour

The Essential Handbook of Treatment and Prevention of Alcohol Problems Nick Heather, Tim Stockwell, 2004 The last three decades have seen an explosion of social psychological and clinical research to identify effective strategies to prevent and treat alcohol related problems This Essential Handbook contains an updated selection of reviews of what works drawn from the critically acclaimed International Handbook of Alcohol Dependence and Problems Selected specifically for health and other professionals who need to provide effective responses in their work these authoritative science based reviews are a distillation of the more practical elements designed to save time for the busy practitioner Contributors Jeff Allison UK Britt K Anderson USA Kevin Boots Australia Janice M Brown USA Russell Carvolth Australia Sally Casswell NZ Jonathan Chick UK Chad Emrick USA Paul Gruenewald USA Nick Heather UK Linda Hill NZ Harold D Holder USA Ross Homel Australia David Kavanagh Australia Harald K H Klingemann Switzerland G Alan Marlatt USA Nyanda McBride Australia Gillian McIlwain Australia James A McKnight USA Richard Midford Australia Kim T Mueser USA Esa sterberg Finland George A Parks USA Duncan Raistrick UK Stephen Rollnick UK Harvey Skinner Canada Tim Stockwell Australia Andrew J Treno USA Robert B Voas USA Malissa Yang Canada

Homicidal Encounters Jenny Mouzos, 2000 Mouzos analyses Australian homicide data using information collected by the National Homicide Monitoring Program for the period 1989 to 1999 The main elements of homicide the characteristics of the incident victim offender and victim offender relationship are analysed Chapters cover homicide in the course of other crime mass and serial murders male to male homicide partner homicide homicidal women infanticide homicidal children elderly homicide and the prevention of homicide

Alcohol, Young Persons and Violence Paul Williams, 2001 There is overwhelming evidence of a link between alcohol consumption and violent behaviour Although not fully understood it is widely accepted that levels of alcohol consumption and violence are higher among younger than older persons and particularly so among young males In 1999 the Australian Institute of Criminology hosted a Roundtable on the theme of Alcohol Young Persons and Violence Its purpose was to highlight new empirical data to explore innovative interventions and to inform the development of a National Alcohol Strategy This publication gathers together nine papers from that Roundtable as well as others related to the subject of alcohol young persons and violence These papers do not attempt to provide a comprehensive description of the extent and nature of the problem nor do they offer a prescriptive policy solution They do however provide examples of recent research and policy opportunities in the area and offer evidence which will contribute to the development of the National Alcohol Strategy

Opportunity, Environmental Characteristics and Crime Marissa Potchak Levy, 2009 Levy develops a model to identify the opportunity and environmental characteristics of repeat victimization of auto theft At the community level locations of apartments bars and auto repair shops create increased opportunity for auto theft At the site level she matches repeat auto theft locations to those that experienced a single victimization She collects data on W A L L S Watchers Activity Nodes Location Lighting and Security Devices variables Location and lighting were the most significant variables Watchers and security devices were related to repeat victimization in resid
