Policing Britain Risk Security And Governance:

Policing Britain Les Johnston, 2000 CONTENTS The Politics of the Police Benjamin Bowling, Robert Reiner, James W. E. Sheptycki, 2019 The Politics of the Police offers a geographical and historical overview of the law and politics of the police This fifth edition covers a wider range of empirical and theoretical issues encompassing a transnational scope and reflecting the growing diversity of policing forms in today's globalized world The Oxford Handbook of Criminology Rod Morgan, Mike Maguire, Robert Reiner, 2012-04-12 The approach of the year 2000 has made the study of apocalyptic movements trendy But groups anticipating the end of the world will continue to predict Armageddon even after the calendar clicks to triple Os The Securitization and Policing of Art Theft John Kerr, 2016-03-09 The subject of many films and books art theft is a fascinating topic that continues to capture the popular imagination However it is one of many types of art crime that remain under researched and which require much more academic empirical investigation This book examines who is performing managing governing and controlling the securitization and policing of art theft in London Through giving the first map of the policing and securitization of one of the world's largest centres of art it helps our understanding of art security at city national and international levels and offers practical recommendations for those who operate within art security Providing the first clear single account of the London art security terrain this book also advances current knowledge of policing environmental criminology and insurance Moreover it adds to the previous research into the traditionally restricted worlds of private policing public policing and the art world Transformations of Policing Alistair Henry, 2017-05-15 Police and People in London is still the largest and most detailed study of a police force and its relations with the public that has yet been undertaken in Britain The twenty three years since its publication has seen a constantly accelerating rate of change in the legal framework of policing in the arrangements for democratic accountability of the police in the technologies involved in crime and policing in management structures and methods in the police service in financial control systems imposed by central government and in methods of assessing police performance Over the same period crime control has moved from the bottom to the top of the political agenda leading to increasing pressure on the police to be seen to be effective Transformations of Policing returns to the central issues discussed in 1983 and considers whether the main conclusions need to be revised in the light of what has happened since It also reviews areas of debate and research that have emerged more recently and highlights areas of turbulence that are creating fundamentally different patterns from before and raising genuinely new questions The Global Making of Policing Jana Hönke, Markus-Michael Müller, 2016-08-12 This edited volume analyses the global making of security institutions and practices in our postcolonial world The volume will offer readers the opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of the global making of how security is thought of and practiced from US urban policing diaspora politics and transnational security professionals to policing encounters in Afghanistan Palestine Colombia or Haiti It critically examines and decentres conventional perspectives on security governance and policing In doing so the book offers a fresh analytical approach moving beyond dominant one sided perspectives on the transnational character of security governance which suggest a diffusion of models and practices from a Western centre to the rest of the globe Such perspectives omit much of the experimenting and learning going on in the post colony as well as the active agency and participation of seemingly subaltern actors in producing and co constituting what is conventionally thought of as Western policing practice knowledge and institutions This is the first book that studies the truly global making of security institutions and practices from a postcolonial perspective by bringing together highly innovative in depth empirical cases studies from across the globe It will be of particular interest to students and scholars interested in International Relations and Global Studies critical Security Studies Criminology and Postcolonial Studies

Regulatory Theory Peter Drahos, 2017-02-23 This volume introduces readers to regulatory theory Aimed at practitioners postgraduate students and those interested in regulation as a cross cutting theme in the social sciences Regulatory Theory includes chapters on the social psychological foundations of regulation as well as theories of regulation such as responsive regulation smart regulation and nodal governance It explores the key themes of compliance legal pluralism meta regulation the rule of law risk accountability globalisation and regulatory capitalism The environment crime health human rights investment migration and tax are among the fields of regulation considered in this ground breaking book Each chapter introduces the reader to key concepts and ideas and contains suggestions for further reading The contributors who either are or have been connected to the Regulatory Institutions Network RegNet at The Australian National University include John Braithwaite Valerie Braithwaite Peter Grabosky Neil Gunningham Fiona Haines Terry Halliday David Levi Faur Christine Parker Colin Scott and Clifford Shearing

Crime and Security Benjamin Jervis Goold, Lucia Zedner, 2006 The articles in this volume reflect the range and variety of debates surrounding the issue of security They address the very concept of security and explore its origins in the literature of criminology They also examine the relationship between the provision of security as a fundamental justification of state power

Panic City Martin J. Murray, 2020-03-10 Despite the end of white minority rule and the transition to parliamentary democracy Johannesburg remains haunted by its tortured history of racial segregation and burdened by enduring inequalities in income opportunities for stable work and access to decent housing Under these circumstances Johannesburg has become one of the most dangerous cities in the world where the yawning gap between the haves and have nots has fueled a turn toward redistribution through crime While wealthy residents have retreated into heavily fortified gated communities and upscale security estates the less affluent have sought refuge in retrofitting their private homes into safe houses closing off public streets and hiring the services of private security companies to protect their suburban neighborhoods Panic City is an exploration of urban fear and its impact on the city's evolving siege architecture the transformation of policing and obsession with security that has fueled unprecedented private consumption of protection services Martin Murray analyzes the symbiotic relationship between public law enforcement agencies private security companies and neighborhood associations wherein buyers and sellers of security have reinvented ways of maintaining outdated segregation practices that define the urban poor as suspects Knowledge Management in Policing and Law Enforcement Geoffrey Dean, Petter Gottschalk, 2007 This unique book sets out the conceptual framework for knowledge management and explains how a greater understanding of the subject can help policing at an operational level It covers the foundations of knowledge management and the key security issues in relation to a globalised world of crime and terrorism it looks at the building of structures and the use of applications and it provides illustrative examples of working applications of police specific knowledge management systems The Politics of the Police Robert Reiner, 2000 This third edition of the popular and highly acclaimed text The Politics of the Police has been completely revised and updated to take account of recent and profound changes in the law policy and organisation of policing The Police and Magistrates Courts Act 1994 the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 the Police Act 1996 and the Public Order Bill have all had a major impact on policing in the UK during this period The social and political context has also changed dramatically not least with the election of a Labour government after 18 years of Conservative rule All these factors have led to a profound shift in the nature of policing The author has retained the book's three fold structure covering the history of the police the sociology of policing and the law and politics of the police There is also an examination of the complex and highly charged debates surrounding policing including the various controversies and developments which have led to a change in the public's opinion of the police in recent years from the violent conflict of the miners strike in 1984-85 to the Macpherson report on the Stephen Lawrence case in 1999 In addition current proposals for reform are analysed and others proposed This clear insightful and up to date review of a complex and contentious subject will be essential reading for all those concerned with policing whether students researchers or professionals Community Safety Peter Squires, 2006-07-05 Social Policy Review provides students academics and all those interested in welfare issues with detailed analyses of progress and change in areas of major interest during the past year Policing in a Changing Constitutional Order Neil Walker, 2000 This text examines the changes that have taken place in police powers discusses how the police are viewed under the constitution and how this has influenced their actions and reputation Criminology Chris Hale, 2005 Criminology is the ideal textbook for undergraduate and postgraduate students coming to the subject for the first time Written by a team of leading criminologists the book covers a wide range of topics including historical and contemporary understandings of crime and criminal justice different forms of crime from street crime to state crime who commits crime and who are the victims of crime and how society and state agencies respond to crime and disorder The contributions to the book offer clear accessible introductions to the main issues in criminology and the book includes questions summaries further reading a comprehensive glossary and tables and diagrams throughout BOOK JACKET Canadian Journal of Law and Society, 2006 Tourism and Crime David Botterill, Trevor Jones, 2010 With contributions from an international team of highly respected authors and researchers

Tourism and Crime brings together concepts ideas and empirical evidence from two distinct fields of research enquiry criminology and tourism studies and maps out a cross disciplinary research agenda for scholars and policymakers in this area

Police Science Perspectives Francisco del Barrio Romero,2009 Due to developments in crime public disorder and society in general police forces across Europe are increasingly confronted with cross border cases As a result the need for police cooperation intensifies and more and more police practice is based on scientific knowledge CEPOL asked a group of experts from six European countries to reflect on these developments Why do senior police officers need research and science What kind of scientific knowledge fits their professional framework How do they make use of it The report including expert commentaries ventures to provide some answers by exploring key questions and aims to open a further discussion about modern day police science and potential paths towards a European approach Regulation Richard Johnstone,Rick Sarre,2004 There has been a significant increase in regulation of civil society in the late twentieth century by governments to ensure that their policy objectives are being achieved As a result a wide range of institutions are subject to a range of regulatory practices This collection of papers is from an Australian Institute of Criminology conference which was held in Melbourne in September 2002 in conjunction with the Regulatory Institutions Network RegNet at the Australian National University and the Division of Business and Enterprise at the University of South Australia The papers summarise the issues relating to the emergence of the new regulatory state the various forms of regulatory techniques that are being used the way in which regulatory regimes are increasingly being networked to ensure compliance and the conflicts that can sometimes emerge from such an interface Sociology ,2001 Fragmentation, Diversification and Expansion of International Law Canadian Council on International Law.
