Shanghai In Transition Changing Perspectives And Social Contours Of A Chinese Metropolis:

Shanghai in Transition Jos Gamble, 2003 China's largest metropolis Shanghai has undergone a decade of far reaching economic and social transformation This book presents an evocative and richly nuanced series of ethnographic perspectives of the city's shifting sociological landscape in this period of transition It is based upon research conducted over the past 10 years The topics explored range from the perceived consequences of Shanghai's more porous boundaries to intra national and global flows of people capital and cultural items to notions of Shanghaiese identity the impact of mass consumerism and the work of share dealers in Shanghai's recently recreated stock exchange The book builds upwards from street level perspectives and stresses ways in which the lives of Shanghai citizens are implicated with wider historical political and economic phenomena Shanghai's innerstädtischer Freiraumwandel in zehn Jahren Stadterneuerung von 1991 - 2000 anhand von Beispielen aus Huangpu, Nanshi, Luwan, Jing'an und Lujiazui Nannan Dong, 2006 Insurgencies and Revolutions Haripriya Rangan, Mee Kam NG, Libby Porter, Jacquelyn Chase, 2016-10-26 Over the past six or more decades John Friedmann has been an insurgent force in the field of urban and regional planning transforming it from its traditional state centered concern for establishing social and spatial order into a radical domain of collaborative action between state and civil society for creating the good society in the present and future By opening it up to theoretical engagement with a wide range of disciplines Friedmann's contributions have revolutionised planning as a transdisciplinary space of critical thinking social learning and reflective practice Insurgencies and Revolutions brings together former students close research associates and colleagues of John Friedmann to reflect on his contributions to planning theory and practice The volume is organized around five broad themes where Friedmann's contributions have risen to challenge established paradigms and generated the space for revolutionary thinking and action in urban and regional planning Theorising hope Economic development and regionalism World cities and the Good city Social learning empowered communities and citizenship and Chinese cities The essays by the authors reflect their engagement with his ideas and the new directions in which they have taken these in their work in planning theory and practice Middle Class Shanghai Cheng Li, 2021-05-11 The United States may be headed toward a disastrous conflict with China unless Washington updates its understanding of contemporary Chinese society After four decades of engagement the United States and China now appear to be locked on a collision course that has already fomented a trade war seems likely to produce a new cold war and could even result in dangerous military conflict The current deterioration of the bilateral relationship is the culmination of years of disputes disillusionment disappointment and distrust between the two countries Washington has legitimate concerns about Beijing's excessive domestic political control and aggressive foreign policy stances just as Chinese leaders believe the United States still has futile designs on blocking their country's inevitable rise to great power status Cheng Li's Middle Class Shanghai argues that American policymakers must not lose sight of the expansive dynamism and diversity in present day China The caricature of the PRC as a monolithic Communist apparatus set on exporting its ideology and development model is simplistic and misguided Drawing on empirical research in the realms of higher education avant garde art architecture and law this unique study highlights the strong constructive impact of bilateral exchanges Combining eclectic human stories with striking new data analysis this book addresses the possibility that the development of China s class structure and cosmopolitan culture exemplified and led by Shanghai could provide a force for reshaping U S China engagement Both countries should build upon the deep cultural and educational exchanges that have bound them together for decades The author concludes that U S policymakers should neither underestimate the role and strength of the Chinese middle class nor ostracize or alienate this force with policies that push it toward jingoistic nationalism to the detriment of both countries and the global community With its unique focus this book will enlighten policymakers scholars business leaders and anyone interested in China and its increasingly fraught relations with the United States Intellectual Discourse in Reform Era China Giorgio

Strafella,2016-11-18 This book explores intellectual discourse in reform era China by analysing the so called debate on the spirit of the Humanities which occurred in the years 1993 95 and which is recognised by scholars as one of the most interesting influential and important debates of the 1990s This debate in which Chinese intellectuals reflected on reform era mass culture and on their role in society was the first debate in China after the crackdown of 1989 and the launch of new economic reforms after Deng Xiaoping s 1992 southern tour The book drawing on a large corpus of texts and a wide range of individual positions demonstrates how Chinese intellectuals having to face the combination of political repression and economic liberalisation conceptualised and reacted to both The book reveals the scale and complexity of the debate the nature of intellectual life in China the status and relevance of intellectual voices in society the divisions within the intellectual sphere as well as shared concepts and ideals and how the key factors of political repression and economic liberalisation which remain central in China today were defined and articulated Silencing Shanghai Fang Xu,2021-06-24

Silencing Shanghai Fang Xu,2021-06-24 Silencing Shanghai investigates the paradoxical and counterintuitive contrast between Shanghai s emergence as a global city and the marginalization of its native population captured through the rapid decline of the distinctive Shanghai dialect From this unique vantage point Fang Xu tells a story of power relations in a cosmopolitan metropolis closely monitored and shaped by an authoritarian state through policies affecting urban redevelopment internal migration and language These state policies favor the rich the resourceful and the highly educated while alienate the poorer and less educated Shanghainese geographically and linguistically When the state vigorously promotes Mandarin Chinese through legal and administrative means Shanghainese made the conscious yet reluctant choice of shifting from the dialect to the national language At the same time millions of migrants have little incentive to adopt the vernacular given that their relation to the state has already firmly established their legal financial and social standing in the city The recent shift in the urban linguistic scene that silences the Shanghai dialect is ultimately part of the state led global city building process Through the association of the use of national language with realizing the China Dream the state further eliminates the unique vernacular characters of Shanghai

Port Cities in Asia and Europe Arndt Graf, Chua Beng Huat, 2008-11-20 With the demise of European socialist economies and the marketization of Asian communist countries a new global capitalism has reshaped the configuration of the world economy with speed a determining factor to all transactions of information finance goods and services and people Sea ports that were significant for a slower but no less global economy have been undergoing transformation to stay economically and culturally relevant Some manage to reinvent themselves as tourist cities some face decline if they do not manage to transform This volume looks at a number of port cities in Asia and Europe that face this pressure With contributions considering history contemporary developments contacts between ports the representation of ports and the relations between port cities and their hinterlands This comparative study identifies many parallels between local histories and developments in the Asian and European port cities as well as new opportunities for sharing experiences and learning from the developments and decisions in similar situations in other port cities

China Perspectives , 2003 Spaces of Globalisation Andrew Mark Marton, 2004 Shanghai Peter G. Rowe, Seng Kuan, 2004 The rise of Shanghai over the past decade is a story of superlatives The city s skyline has been totally transformed. It now boasts some of the world's tallest buildings and longest bridges. This volume presents portfolios of more than thirty design projects recently completed or currently underway along with expert essays offering pointed analyses from urban design to conservation confirming Shanghai's preeminent position in the global network.

 Stewart Clegg, Dr. Karen Wang, Mike Berrell, 2007. Business Networks and Strategic Alliances in China addresses how knowledge transfer and innovation are interwoven within complex networks and how social capital contributes to the acquisition of crucial resources and business success in multi-type enterprises in China. The book explains how China's remarkable global economic impact in recent years has developed from foreign investment and that the dominant vehicle for economic development has been the International Joint Venture (IJV) between Chinese manufacturers and overseas enterprises. Strict guidelines on FDI mean that foreign firms have been obliged to form relationships with Chinese organizations. The authors illustrate that as a direct result the quality and nature of the relations networks and alliances forged is crucial for the success of Chinese businesses. A sophisticated empirical, theoretical, comparative and historical guide to understanding the nature of business networks in China is provided by this work. As such it makes a distinct contribution to the furtherance of evidence-based management theory and practice and will strongly appeal to those with an interest in management, international business and Asian studies.

Domestication of Media and Technology Thomas Berker, 2006. This text provides an overview of a key concept in media and technology studies that is domestication. It includes theories around domestication that shed light upon the process in which a technology changes its status from outrageous novelty to an aspect of everyday life which is taken for granted.

Brown to Green Bei Jiang, 2007. Economic Development and Inequality in China Hong Yu, 2011. The conventional belief that all regions have equally benefited from China's remarkable development over the last three decades is subjected to criticism in this book as Hong Yu systematically analyses the issue of regional inequality during the post-1978 period using the case of Guangdong. Guangdong is one of the key industrial centres and economic powerhouses in China and as a pioneer province instigating economic reform as China opened up to the world it offers an ideal focus upon which to question and enrich the Western theories of economic geography and regional disparity. Based on field research, analysis of geographic characteristics and regression models, this book illustrates how Guangdong's impressive development record has been marred by its rising regional disparity. It investigates the main causes of this disparity and draws conclusions regarding the lessons China can learn from it. Economic Development and Inequality in China will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese economics, Chinese regional studies, economic geography and China Studies. Hong Yu is a Visiting Research Fellow at the National University of Singapore. His research interests lie in the field of regional economy. He is the author of a chapter on China's two delta regions in the book China and The Global Economic Crisis.

The Making of the Consumer Frank Trentmann, 2006. The Making of the Consumer follows the evolution of the consumer in the modern world ranging from imperial Britain to contemporary Papua New Guinea and from the European Union to China Choice ,2003 田田田 ,2007 Work and Organizational Behaviour John Bratton,2007-04-15 Work and Organizational Behaviour is a core introductory text for undergraduate and MBA students which provides both a psychologically and sociologically based view of behaviour in work organisation from a critical perspective
