libraries and small town newspapers Greene brings Harry Hervey 1900 1951 to life and explicates his works to reveal him as a hardworking writer and master of many genres bravely unwilling to conform to conventional values As Greene illustrates Hervey s novels short stories nonfiction books and film scripts contain complex mixtures of history and thinly disguised homoerotic situations and themes They blend local color naturalism melodrama and psychological and sexual truths that provide a view to the circles in which he moved Living openly with his male lover in Savannah Georgia and Charleston South Carolina Hervey set novels in these cities that scandalized the locals and critics as well He challenged the sexual mores of his day sometimes subtly and at other times brazenly presenting texts that told one story to gay male readers while still courting a mainstream audience His novels and nonfiction may have been coded and thus escaped detection in their day but twenty first century readers can decipher them easily Greene also discusses Hervey s travel books and successful Hollywood scriptwriting as well as his use of exotic elements from Asian cultures The iconic film Shanghai Express starring Marlene Dietrich was based on one of his original stories He also wrote some of the first travel books on Indochina with descriptions of male and female prostitution and allusions to his own sexual adventures which still make for sensational reading today Despite Hervey s output and his perseverance in presenting gay characters and themes as openly as he could he has not been included in any survey of twentieth century gay writers Greene now rectifies this omission providing the first book length study of Hervey s life and work and the first scholarly attention to him in more than fifty years It furthers our understanding of gay life in the South as well as the impact of gay artists on popular culture in the first half of the twentieth century

Missionaries in the Golden Age of Hollywood Douglas Carl Abrams, 2022-12-15 This book examines major British and American missionary films during the Golden Age of Hollywood to explore the significance of race gender and spirituality in relation to the lives of the missionaries portrayed in film during the middle third of the twentieth century Film both influences and reflects culture and racial gender and religious identities are some of the most debated issues globally today In the movies explored in this book missionary interactions with various people groups reflect the historical changes which took place during this time

From Fu Manchu to Kung Fu Panda Naomi Greene, 2014-06-01 Throughout the twentieth century American filmmakers have embraced cinematic representations of China Beginning with D W Griffith s silent classic Broken Blossoms 1919 and ending with the computer animated Kung Fu Panda 2008 this book explores China s changing role in the American imagination Taking viewers into zones that frequently resist logical expression or more orthodox historical investigation the films suggest the welter of intense and conflicting impulses that have surrounded China They make clear that China has often served as the very embodiment of otherness a kind of yardstick or cloudy mirror of America itself It is a mirror that reflects not only how Americans see the racial other but also a larger landscape of racial sexual and political perceptions that touch on the ways in which the nation envisions itself and its role in the world In the United States the exceptional emotional charge that imbues images of China has tended to swing violently from positive to negative and back again China has been loved and as is generally the case today feared Using film to trace these dramatic fluctuations author Naomi Greene relates them to the larger arc of historical and political change Suggesting that filmic images both reflect and fuel broader social and cultural impulses she argues that they reveal a constant tension or dialectic between the self and the other Significantly with the important exception of films made by Chinese or Chinese American directors the Chinese other is almost invariably portrayed in terms of the American self Placed in a broader context this ethnocentrism is related both to an ever present sense of American exceptionalism and to a Manichean world view that perceives other countries as friends or enemies From Fu Manchu to Kung Fu Panda chronicles the struggle within Hollywood film to come to grips with American ambivalence toward China as a nation against the backdrop of its current economic and geopolitical ascendancy on the world stage Reaching back to early film portrayals of Chinatown Christian missionaries warlords and perverse villains bent on world domination Greene moves from the yellow peril to the red menace as she examines WWII and Cold War cinema She also explores the range of film fantasies circulating today from films about Tibet to Chinese American independent features and the global popularity of kung fu cartoons This accessible book allows these films to speak to the post 9 11 Occupy Wall Street generation and makes a welcome contribution to debates about Hollywood Orientalism and transnational Chinese film connections

Gina Marchetti author of The Chinese Diaspora on American Screens Race Sex and Cinema A significant work of filmography Naomi Greene s book explores the exotic at times menacing but always fantastic images of China flickering on the silver screen of the American imagination The author writes lucidly jargon free and with the sure footedness of a seasoned scholar Yunte Huang author of Charlie Chan The Untold Story of the Honorable Detective and His Rendezvous with American History Construction and Urban Planning Yong Huang,Tai Bao,Hong Wang,2013-03-11 Selected peer reviewed papers from the 2013 International Conference on Structures and Building Materials ICSBM 2013 9 10 March 2013 Guizhou China The Comacrib Directory of China ,1925 Restaurant Business ,1988 Time Briton Hadden, Henry Robinson Luce,1933 Film Year Book ,1938 The Directory and Chronicle for China, Japan, Corea, Indo-China, Straits Settlements, Malay States, Siam, Netherlands India, Borneo, the Philippines, and Etc ,1938 China Embraces the Market ,1997 The London and China Telegraph ,1870 China John Summerfield,1990-11-27 Motion Picture Herald ,1935 International Business ,1995 Filmmuseum Berlin Wolfgang Jacobsen,Hans Helmut Prinzler,Werner Sudendorf,2000 Beijing Review ,2007
