Philip Grime, Simon Pierce, 2012-03-26 THE EVOLUTIONARY STRATEGIES THAT SHAPE ECOSYSTEMS In 1837 a young Charles Darwin took his notebook wrote I think and then sketched a rudimentary stick like tree Each branch of Darwin s tree of life told a story of survival and adaptation adaptation of animals and plants not just to the environment but also to life with other living things However more than 150 years since Darwin published his singular idea of natural selection the science of ecology has yet to account for how contrasting evolutionary outcomes affect the ability of organisms to coexist in communities and to regulate ecosystem functioning In this book Philip Grime and Simon Pierce explain how evidence from across the world is revealing that beneath the wealth of apparently limitless and bewildering variation in detailed structure and functioning the essential biology of all organisms is subject to the same set of basic interacting constraints on life history and physiology The inescapable resulting predicament during the evolution of every species is that according to habitat each must adopt a predictable compromise with regard to how they use the resources at their disposal in order to survive The compromise involves the investment of resources in either the effort to acquire more resources the tolerance of factors that reduce metabolic performance or reproduction This three way trade off is the irreducible core of the universal adaptive strategy theory which Grime and Pierce use to investigate how two environmental filters selecting respectively for convergence and divergence in organism function determine the identity of organisms in communities and ultimately how different evolutionary strategies affect the functioning of ecosystems This book refl ects an historic phase in which evolutionary processes are finally moving centre stage in the effort to unify ecological theory and animal plant and microbial ecology have begun to find a common theoretical framework Companion website This book has a companion website www.wiley.com/go/grime/evolutionarystrategies with Figures and Tables from the book for downloading Sharks , 1982-01-01 Bowker's Complete Video Directory , 2000 Sharks Jenni Zellner, 2020-08-25 Plunge into the breath taking world of sharks with this beautiful photographic pictorial Sharks documents different types of sharks their life cycle biology social habits conservation and fun facts about these powerful fish Our seas and oceans are home to one of the fiercest hunters of the water With over 400 species of sharks from stingrays to the great white to the tiger shark to the dwarf lantern it is no wonder that these ferocious creatures have captured our imaginations Predators of the deep their ancient biology have kept them at the top of the oceanic food chain Did you know that sharks like having their noses pet Despite the mouthful of teeth they are precious and adorable water puppies They are ancient animals like water dinosaurs who have been around for millions of years They don t have bones Learn more fun biological points about sharks and interesting facts about their environment with Sharks the ideal gift for anyone who loves these fascinating animals and wants to be engulfed inside their world
