library services as well as library premises This raises questions about what needs to be considered when planning and designing new library buildings in order to achieve attractive efficient and future oriented new library spaces This new publication provides information and guidelines for the building planning process whether you are planning a new public or academic library building It reflects on fundamental issues on new development trends and on the planning process The library building process is seen from both the library manager s perspective as well as that of the architect and designer Issues covered include what to consider when investigating the need for space library design from a marketing viewpoint green management and sustainability relating to library buildings and a layman s guide to reading plans This publication and the IFLA guidelines provided are not seen as a traditional set of recommendations to be rigidly adhered to since this would be unrealistic in a fast changing and global context Rather library managers and architects should read them in order to inform their thinking on key issues and establish a planning programme They must then relate them to their own countries and circumstances by making the relevant local adjustments

Better by Design Ayub Khan,2009 Libraries today are faced with rapidly shifting populations of users with differing needs who require a range of new communications links that are transforming our concept of the library space This developing role has created a set of new and complex challenges for those delivering library services There is no such thing as the perfect library building However a well designed building will enable a project both to gain local acceptance more easily and to ease the process of securing planning permission It also needs to be cost effective to run support the organization s objectives well offer an improved service to the user and make an impact on the community This much needed book takes as its starting point the fact that few architects know very much about libraries and fewer librarians know about architectural planning and designing. It steers a clear path for library managers through the language and processes that they need to understand as members of a team overseeing the planning of a new library building project, major refurbishment or remodelling of an existing library. Key topics include twenty-first century libraries, developing a business case, project management, the design project team, selecting an architect, partnership and community engagement, the design brief, design quality, space planning and access, occupancy and post-occupancy evaluation, building libraries for the future. Appendices offer top tips and checklists together with a glossary of common terms used within the construction environment to help further demystify the design process for librarians. Readership: This practical and accessible book is an invaluable guide not only for new entrants to the library profession but also for experienced practitioners who are approaching for the first time the important task of creating a new library or major refurbishment of existing facilities. It will also be of great relevance to architects unfamiliar with library building requirements.
