Raising Cain Caring For Troubled Youngstersrepairing Our Troubled System:

Raising Cain Richard J. Delaney,1998 Foster and adoptive parents are challenged by society to raise the child with extraordinary emotional and behavioral problems the child marked by his past the child whose future without help looks grim In effect we ask these parents to not only Raise Cain but to raise him better But if we ask foster and adoptive parents to raise society s abused and neglected youngsters our system legal welfare and mental health must better attend to the best interests of its children and of those who care for Cain Raising Cain challenges failings in the legal welfare and mental health system that undermine the best interests of foster and adoptive children It protests confronts and Raises Cain about basic but reparable flaws in our present system of care Healing Power of the Family (English Version) Richard J.

Delaney,2000-09 Mental Health Services for Vulnerable Children and Young People Michael

Tarren-Sweeney,Arlene Vetere,2013-09-11 More than half of children either in foster care or adopted from care in the developed world have a measurable need for mental health services while up to one quarter present with complex and severe trauma and attachment related psychological disorders This book outlines how services can effectively detect prevent and treat mental health difficulties in this vulnerable population Responding to increasing evidence that standard child and adolescent mental health services are poorly matched to the mental health service needs of children and young people who have been in foster care this book provides expert guidance on the design of specialised services The first part provides an overview of these children s mental health needs their use of mental health services and what is known about the effectiveness of mental health interventions provided to them The second part presents some recent innovations in mental health service delivery concentrating on advances in clinical and developmental assessment and treatment The final part confronts the challenges for delivering effective mental health services in this area This is the definitive international reference for the design of specialised mental health services for children and young people in care and those adopted from care It is invaluable reading for health and social care professionals working with this population and academics with an interest in child and adolescent mental health from a range of disciplines including social work nursing and psychology

Thinking Psychologically About Children Who Are Looked After and Adopted Kim S. Golding,Helen R. Dent,Ruth Nissim,Liz Stott,2006-02-22 Assessment intervention and living with children who are looked after or adopted all require an understanding of psychology and its application This innovative collection makes thinking psychologically about looked after and adopted children accessible and in doing so provides an insight into the world of these children Informed by research practice and psychological theory this volume provides an overview of the area and considers the context for helping children change and develop It goes on to describe in detail the techniques and approaches used by clinicians and explains how interventions can be developed and adapted for children and young people living in residential foster and adoptive care Careful consideration is also given to carers and families living with these children With its multi disciplinary approach

Thinking Psychologically About Children Who Are Looked After and Adopted will appeal to all professionals involved in the care and education of placed children It will also be of interest to policy makers and lecturers and students of social work

Safe Passage Richard J. Delaney, 2000-02 Discusses issues faced by those adopting special needs children children who are older who have emotional or physical problems and or who are of a minority group The Permutations of Permanency Richard J. Delaney, 1998

Nurturing Attachments Kim S. Golding, 2008 Nurturing Attachments combines the experience and wisdom of parents and carers with that of professionals to provide support and practical guidance for foster and adoptive parents looking after children with insecure attachment relationships It gives an overview of attachment theory and a step by step model of parenting which provides the reader with a tried and tested framework for developing resilience and emotional growth Featuring throughout are the stories of Catherine Zoe Marcus and Luke four fictional children in foster care or adoptive homes who are used to illustrate the ideas and strategies described The book offers sound advice and provides exercises for parents and their children as well as useful tools that supervising social workers can use both in individual support of carers as well as in training exercises This is an essential guide for adoptive and foster parents professionals including health and social care practitioners clinical psychologists child care professionals and lecturers and students in this field
