Box

1 A box is a simple but very useful object. It is usually made from materials like 2 cardboard, wood, metal, or plastic. Boxes can come in many shapes and 3 sizes, but most of them are rectangular or square. People use boxes to store
4 or transport items. For example, they are used to pack gifts, keep toys 5 organized, or send things to friends and family.

6 Some boxes are designed for specific purposes. A toolbox is a special box
7 that holds tools. A lunchbox is used to carry food. There are also boxes 8 called safes, which are very strong and lockable to protect valuable things 9 like money or jewelry. Boxes are often easy to open and close. They usually 10 have a lid, flap, or cover to keep the items inside safe. Some boxes are 11 foldable, which means they can be made flat when not in use. This makes 12 them easy to store. Cardboard boxes are often recycled because cardboard 13 can be used again to make new products.

14 Boxes have been used for thousands of years. Long ago, people made them 15 from wood to store food and other supplies. Today, they are used in 16 factories, homes, and even in space! Astronauts use special boxes to store 17 tools and equipment on space missions. Another interesting fact is that 18 some animals, like cats, enjoy playing in empty boxes. Scientists believe this 19 is because boxes make them feel safe and hidden. People also use boxes
20 creatively. For example, children might use them to build forts or pretend 21 they are spaceships. Boxes are everywhere in daily life. They make 22 organizing, protecting, and carrying things much easier. Even though they 23 seem simple, boxes are important in many ways.
