TV Snapshots Lynn Spigel, 2022-04-08 In TV Snapshots Lynn Spigel explores snapshots of people posing in front of their television sets in the 1950s through the early 1970s Like today's selfies TV snapshots were a popular photographic practice through which people visualized their lives in an increasingly mediated culture Drawing on her collection of over 5 000 TV snapshots Spigel shows that people did not just watch TV women used the TV set as a backdrop for fashion and glamour poses people dressed in drag in front of the screen and in pinup poses people even turned the TV setting into a space for erotic display While the television industry promoted on screen images of white nuclear families in suburban homes the snapshots depict a broad range of people across racial ethnic and class backgrounds that do not always conform to the reigning middle class nuclear family ideal Showing how the television set became a central presence in the home that exceeded its mass entertainment function Spigel highlights how TV snapshots complicate understandings of the significance of television in everyday life

Represented Brenna Wynn Greer, 2019-07-12 In 1948 Moss Kendrix a former New Deal public relations officer founded a highly successful Washington D C based public relations firm the flagship client of which was the Coca Cola Company As the first black pitchman for Coca Cola Kendrix found his way into the rarefied world of white corporate America His personal phone book also included the names of countless black celebrities such as bandleader Duke Ellington singer actress Pearl Bailey and boxer Joe Louis with whom he had built relationships in the course of developing marketing campaigns for his numerous federal and corporate clients Kendrix along with Ebony publisher John H Johnson and Life photographer Gordon Parks recognized that in the image saturated world of postwar America media in all its forms held greater significance for defining American citizenship than ever before For these imagemakers the visual representation of African Americans as good citizens was good business In Represented Brenna Wynn Greer explores how black entrepreneurs produced magazines photographs and advertising that forged a close association between blackness and Americanness In particular they popularized conceptions of African Americans as enthusiastic consumers a status essential to postwar citizenship claims But their media creations were complicated subject to marketplace dictates they often relied on gender class and family stereotypes Demand for such representations came not only from corporate and government clients to fuel mass consumerism and attract support for national efforts such as the fight against fascism but also from African Americans who sought depictions of blackness to counter racist ideas that undermined their rights and their national belonging as citizens The story of how black capitalists made the market work for racial progress on their way to making money reminds us that the path to civil rights involved commercial endeavors as well as social and political activism

Porn Studies Linda Williams, 2004 In her pioneering book Hard Core Linda Williams put moving image pornography on the map of contemporary scholarship with her analysis of the most popular and enduring of all film and video genres Now fifteen years later she showcases the next generation of critical thinking about pornography and signals new directions for study and teaching Porn Studies resists the tendency to situate pornography as the outer limit of what can be studied and discussed With revenues totaling between ten and fourteen billion dollars annually more than the combined revenues of professional football basketball and baseball visual hard core pornography is a central feature of American popular culture It is time Williams contends for scholars to recognize this and give pornography a serious and extended analysis The essays in this volume move beyond feminist debates and distinctions between a good erotica and a bad hard core Contributors examine varieties of pornography from the tradition of the soft core pin up through the contemporary hard core tradition of straight gay and lesbian videos and dvds to the burgeoning phenomenon of pornography on the Internet They explore as examples of the genre individual works as divergent as The Starr Report the pirated Tommy Lee Pamela Anderson honeymoon video and explicit Japanese ladies comics consumed by women They also probe difficult issues such as the sexualization of race and class and the relationship of pornography to the avant garde To take pornography seriously as an object of analysis also means teaching it Porn Studies thus includes a useful annotated bibliography of readings and archival sources important to the study of pornography as a cultural form Contributors Heather Butler Rich Cante Jake Gerli Minette Hillyer Nguyen Tan Hoang Despina Kakoudaki Franklin Melendez Ara Osterweil Zabet Patterson Constance Penley Angelo Restivo Eric Schaefer Michael Sicinski Deborah Shamoon Maria St John Tom Waugh Linda Williams Encyclopedia of War and American Society Peter Karsten,2006
