The Politics of Canadian Foreign Policy, Fourth Edition

Kim Richard Nossal, Stéphane Roussel, Stéphane Paquin, 2015-12-07 The fourth edition of this widely used text includes updates about the many changes that have occurred in Canadian foreign policy under Stephen Harper and the Conservatives between 2006 and 2015 Subjects discussed include the fading emphasis on internationalism the rise of a new foreign policy agenda that is increasingly shaped by domestic political imperatives and the changing organization of Canada's foreign policy bureaucracy As in previous editions this volume analyzes the deeply political context of how foreign policy is made in Canada Taking a broad historical perspective Kim Nossal Stéphane Roussel and Stéphane Paquin provide readers with the key foundations for the study of Canadian foreign policy They argue that foreign policy is forged in the nexus of politics at three levels the global the domestic and the governmental and that to understand how and why Canadian foreign policy looks the way it does one must look at the interplay of all three

Handbook of Canadian Foreign Policy Patrick James, Nelson

Michaud, Marc O'Reilly, 2006-05-04 Handbook of Canadian Foreign Policy is the most comprehensive book of its kind offering an updated examination of Canada's international role some 15 years after the dismantling of the Berlin Wall ushered in a new era in world politics Tackling recent developments in Canadian foreign policy the authors of this work spotlight Canadian idiosyncrasies within a global context that are defined by wrenching juxtapositions The specialists who have contributed their expertise to this book provide sophisticated analysis conceptual as well as historical rather than simply impressionistic judgments about contemporary events Highlighting both well known and understudied topics this handbook presents a marriage of the familiar and the underappreciated that enables readers to grasp much of the complexity of current Canadian foreign policy and appreciate the challenges policymakers must meet in the early 21st century

Canadian Foreign Policy Andrew Fenton Cooper, 1997

Das Prinzip Nation in modernen Gesellschaften

Bernd Estel, 1994-10 Der Zusammenbruch des Sozialismus in Mitteleuropa hat eine Renaissance von betroffenen Nationen und ihrer Nationalismen zur Folge. Aber auch in den wohl etablierten Nationen des Westens stellt sich aufgrund verschiedener sozio-kultureller und staatlicher Herausforderungen die Frage nach der eigenen Identität neu. In dieser Situation ist es die Aufgabe der Sozialwissenschaften, entsprechendes Wissen über die in Ost und West veränderte nationale Landschaft zu erarbeiten und bereitzustellen. Dazu werden von einem internationalen Forscherkreis die jüngsten Entwicklungstendenzen in vergleichender Absicht erörtert. Canadian Book Review Annual, 1995 Architectes Et Innovateurs Kim Richard Nossal, Greg Donaghy, 2009 As part of its 100th anniversary celebrations the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade at McGill University co-sponsored a series of conferences with university partners on the evolution of the Department and Canadian foreign policy over the past century. This collection brings together the revised papers of a conference co-sponsored by Queen's in December 2008. Architects and Innovators focuses on the personalities and careers of key but often overlooked individuals who shaped the Department over the past century and offers a compelling and accessible introduction to the history of Canadian diplomacy by some of Canada's leading scholars. Included are reflections by Rt Hon Joe Clark former prime minister and secretary of state for external affairs, Hon Pierre Pettigrew former minister of international trade and former minister of foreign affairs and James Taylor former under secretary of state for external affairs and ambassador to Japan. Innovative and Unique Architects and Innovators emphasizes the vital role of individuals, politicians and civil servants in the policy making process. Contributors include Eric Bergbusch York University, Robert Bothwell University of Toronto, David Elder Queen's University, John English Centre for International Governance Innovation, John Hilliker Norman Hillmer Carleton University, Hector Mackenzie DFAIT, Francine McKenzie University of Western Ontario, Hon Roy MacLaren, Margaret MacMillan Oxford University, John Meehan University of Toronto, Carman Miller McGill University, Kim Richard Nossal Queen's University, Stéphane Paquin Sherbrooke University, Stéphane Roussel Université du Québec Montréal, Michael Stevenson York University and Claire Turenne Sjolander University of Ottawa. The Diplomacy of War Graeme Stewart Mount, Andre Laferrière, 2004 In 1950 North Korea invaded South Korea. Sixteen nations fought on behalf of South Korea, two the People's Republic of China and North Korea itself on behalf of North Korea. By the time the fighting stopped three years later, nearly two million military and an estimated three million civilians had lost their lives, with one half of Korean industry and one third of Korean homes destroyed. For two of the three years that the war was under way, both sides were trying to negotiate a peace. Canadian governments know that official Washington usually does not appreciate Canadian advice on management of the world. Ottawa responds by joining multinational organizations where it attempts to persuade other governments to establish a common front. The common front may then try by force of numbers to influence the White House and the State Department. One such multinational organization is the Commonwealth, five of whose eight members, the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, had combat forces in Korea.

Using sources from Australia Canada China the Soviet Union the United Kingdom the United Nations and the United States Mount and Laferriere have used the Korean War as a case study When did the Commonwealth belligerents agree with each other but not with official Washington and what success did they have in changing U S policies BOOK JACKET Canada and the United States John Herd Thompson, Stephen J. Randall, 2008 The authors argue that despite a shared continent and heritage ambivalence has always characterized relations between the two countries an ambivalence stemming from differences that Americans underestimate and that Canadians overstate Thompson and Randall begin with the century in which Canada was a pawn in the relations between the United States and Great Britain They consider the years until World War II during which Canada and the United States erected many of the bilateral institutions and mechanisms that govern their relationship in the twentieth century The authors then explore the World War and Cold War alliance based on economic interest and shared anti Communist that made Canada part of a new American empire The years from 1960 until 1984 most merit their subtitle Ambivalent Allies as it was then that this continental consensus fragmented In 1984 the relationship was restored as Canada's Conservative government embraced the United States with an ardour that stunned a Canadian body politic nurtured on the milk of anti Americanism The authors consider the economic and social dimensions of the relationship from Canadian responses to the increasing weight of the U S cultural presence to the archaic stereotypes through which Canadians and Americans understand each other They conclude that while Canadians have been obsessed with the United States Canada has been a matter of consuming disinterest to the United States public and to most of its leaders Despite the oft repeated platitudes about a special relationship between the two countries the authors maintain that what is striking is the extent to which U S policy toward Canada conforms to U S policy toward the rest of the world For its part Canada's preoccupation with the United States has shaped Canadian national policies Any apparent contemporary trend toward consensus and convergence between the United States and Canada they conclude must be viewed through the lens of two centuries of ambiguity and ambivalence Canadian Periodical Index, 1992 Crossing the Line Stephanie Ruth Golob, 1999 The Worldly Years: 1949-1972 John English, 1992 The life of Lester Pearson 1949-1972 Canadian International Relations Daniel R.
