Environmental Issues and Social Inclusion in a Sustainable Era
R. Iqbal Robbie, Ali Roziqin, Shannaz Mutiara Deniar, Ardik Praharjo, Kenny Roz, 2023-10-31 The Sustainable Development Goals SDG and the Paris Climate Agreement are examples of initiatives where countries show recognition of their interconnected interests and goals This is particularly evident in the case of global environmental issues because they require global decision making The emergence of global environmental issues such as climate change marine pollution and biodiversity loss has brought new challenges to governance and requires political support and innovation of global public policies In addition many social problems arise because of the environmental crisis Environmental Issues and Social Inclusion in a Sustainable Era discusses environmental and social inclusion in a socio economic perspective The contributions analyse the management of global environmental problems at local national and international levels with a special focus on multilevel governance innovative public policies and economic development finance and business The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Funded by Universitas Muhammadiyah Malang

Peer Effects in Green Transformation: Leveraging Social Learning Ewa Dudda, 2024-11-18 The global energy crisis has led to a growing debate on the need to expedite the phasing out of fossil fuels Highlighting the advantages of adopting renewable energy solutions can act as a driving force for positive change in this field Therefore it is crucial to include educational aspects in policy development to encourage local decarbonisation This study employs the diffusion of innovations theory as its research framework to determine the extent to which social learning can facilitate the adoption of renewable energy solutions by individual household residents Furthermore the study examines the extent to which social learning can impede the uptake of renewable energy solutions by individual household residents The content presented in the chapters will be beneficial for educators who are developing interventions based on social learning mechanisms as well as for engineers who are designing innovative solutions
